

AETONIAN

We Offer Thee . . .

We offer to Thee, O Christ, our four years here at Gonzaga. As we have accepted whatever the school has offered to us, we in turn hope that You will accept our accomplishments. During this brief span we have strived to gain proficiency not only in our studies, which is the foundation of school life, but also in the way of Christian living through the activities, sports and events of our years at Gonzaga. We know that all we possess comes from Thee, and realizing this we wish to return all to Thee offering as a token of our gratitude the 1958 AETONIAN.

Gonzaga High School, Washington, D. C.

HIS EXCELLENCY
MOST REVEREND PATRICK A. O'BOYLE
ARCHBISHOP OF WASHINGTON

For the past ten years Archbishop O'Boyle has striven to increase the Catholic faith in the Washington Archdiocese through the education of Catholic youth. We, of Gonzaga, feel privileged to have a man so interested in our welfare as our Spiritual Leader.

In Dedication

FR. JOHN F. X. BELLWOAR, S.J.

On the occasion of Fr. Bellwoar's twenty-fifth anniversary as a Jesuit priest, we, the class of 1958, dedicate the 1958 Aetonian. Truly there is no one more popular at Gonzaga than Fr. Bellwoar. In his 20 years teaching Gonzaga men as a priest and scholastic, he has been an example in spirit, determination and guidance. In this small way we would like to express our thanks to you, Father, and may you have another twenty-fifth anniversary.

It is not through the students that Gonzaga is distinguished from other schools, but through the faculty—priests, scholastics, and laymen who spend their time and energy striving to prepare us to discharge the duties of citizens of Your Kingdom. Not solely by guidance in the arts and sciences do they teach us, but by their example and concern for our welfare. As a result of their efforts the Gonzaga man is morally, intellectually and physically prepared to go forth and meet life's challenges with an unselfish determination to please You.

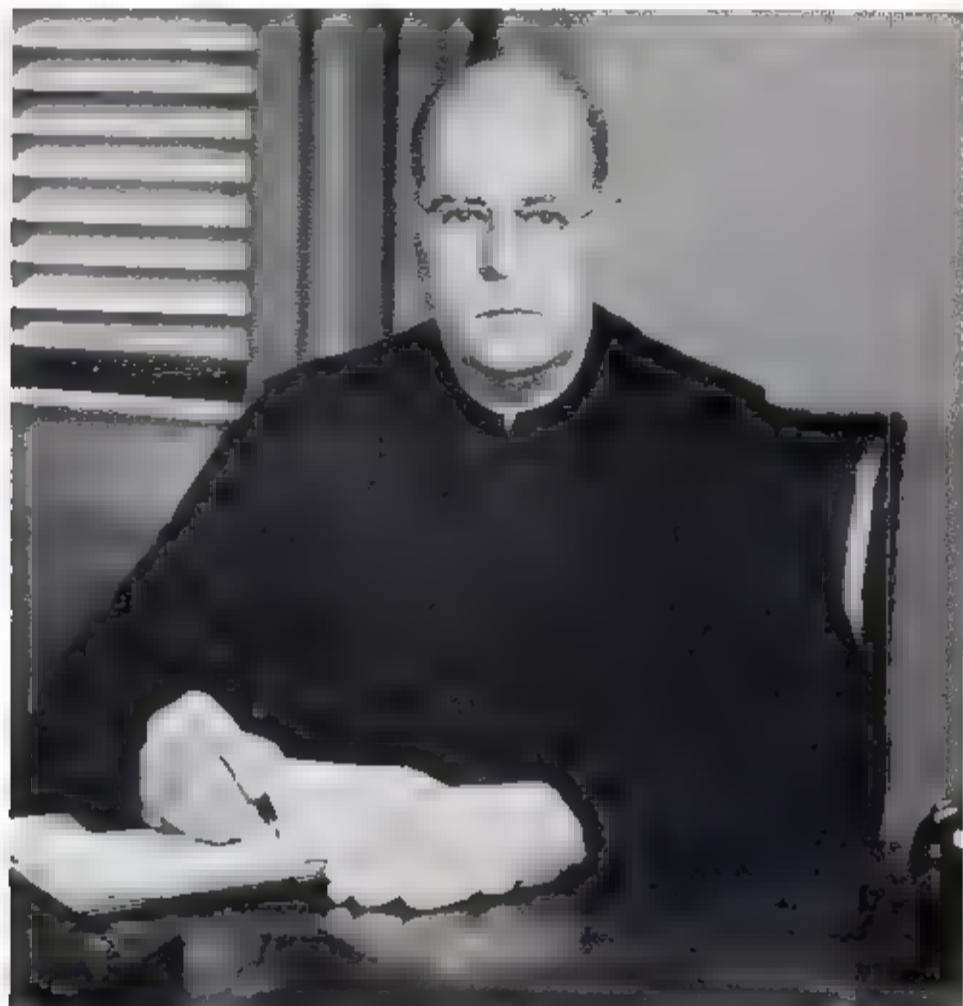

Faculty

REVEREND
WILLIAM A. HORIGAN, S.J.

In his second year as president of the faculty Fr. Horigan has devoted much of his time to Gonzaga. He personally has promoted new organizations in the school, notably the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Glee Club. Through his policies an emphasis of Gonzaga tradition has been stressed, and spirit has increased.

ERNEST B. CLEMENTS, S.J.

Continuing in his role of Prefect of Discipline, Fr. Clements has upheld the discipline prevalent in every Jesuit school. This discipline is designed to develop men, not pamper boys. Also as Moderator of the Mother's Club, Father has promoted many projects for the benefit of the school, such as the Halloween Dance and Bake Sale.

ANTHONY I. McHALE, S.J.

Fr. McHale has been at Gonzaga as Headmaster for three years. In that time he has shown a great deal of interest in the Seniors and underclassmen. In November, he sponsored the Career Conferences for Seniors and all year aided the seniors in their choice of college. To the underclassmen he stressed the necessity of preparing for college and of making an early selection of the college which they wished to attend.

REVEREND JOHN B. McGEE, S.J.

Fr. McGee has performed many tasks this year in his capacity as Student Counsellor. The Sodality is rapidly becoming the largest organization in the school and, as always, he supervised the K.B.S. Mass, Rosary Crusade, Senior and Underclassmen Retreats and May devotions. Besides the spiritual aspect, Fr. McGee has given tests to Juniors and Seniors to help them decide on their choice of a career. He consults colleges on their requirements and generally counsels any student who seeks advice.

Faculty Strives to Educate Christian Youth

"For the greater glory of God."—the motto of the Society of Jesus and the goal of every Gonzaga man. We must have guidance in our pursuit of this goal, however, else it be lost in the darkness of worldliness.

The task of the faculty is to guide us along their true path during our formative years. This thankless job is often tedious and burdensome to our teachers, but they perform it with utmost patience and true devotion. Daily by their teaching and example, they transmit to us the principles by which we may attain true success in this world and eternal happiness.

These priests, scholastics, and laymen have dedicated their lives to molding us into men and for this the class of 1958 is forever grateful.

On the night of graduation, as we receive our diplomas, we recall the past, rejoice in the present and question the future. These diplomas symbolize our four years of effort at Gonzaga. Though we have not always attained first place, we always tried to give our best for You. Taking stock of these four years we find them directed in accord with Your command of "Come follow Me." In light of this command we have prepared for the life of a Religious or a Catholic Layman with the comforting assurance that You will always be present to assist us.

On Friday, November 22, 1957 an unprecedented event took place at the Washington Monument. At 3 o'clock p.m. a banner bearing in bold red and black lettering "Beat St. John's" was suspended from the top of monument, 550 feet in the air. Alerted newspaper cameramen took some pictures and sent them over the A.P. wires. Many said it could not be done, but thanks to a few spirited seniors, Gonzaga triumphed again.

Favorites of '58

SENIOR BEST

Every year the graduating class presents its favorites in the various school activities. These outstanding Gonzaga men epitomize the true spirit of Gonzaga in the highest sense of the word. The honor of being chosen on this select list as best in studies, extracurricular activities and athletics will serve as an incentive for the individual to carry on with that same determination. In later life he will be as respected by others for his abilities, as he was by his own classmates. Though not every senior is on this page, each one knows that he is well represented by these. Here then is the Who's Who of the 1958 class of Gonzaga.

Phil Banda. An outstanding student, a four year member of the Band, and one who is always ready to help out, has been chosen as Best Student, Best Musician and Best in Dependability.

John Rubino. His lively good nature has won him the title of Best Personality and Best in Spirit. For his participation in dramatics he has been voted Best Actor (ex aequo).

Lance Morrow. The awards he has won in several writing contests wins for him the senior vote as Best Writer.

Joe Sperty For winning the G.S.M.C oratorical contest and participating in many other contests he has been selected as Best Speaker by his class mates.

Paul McGraw. Chosen by his class mates as Best in Humor. Also awarded the title of Best Actor (ex aequo).

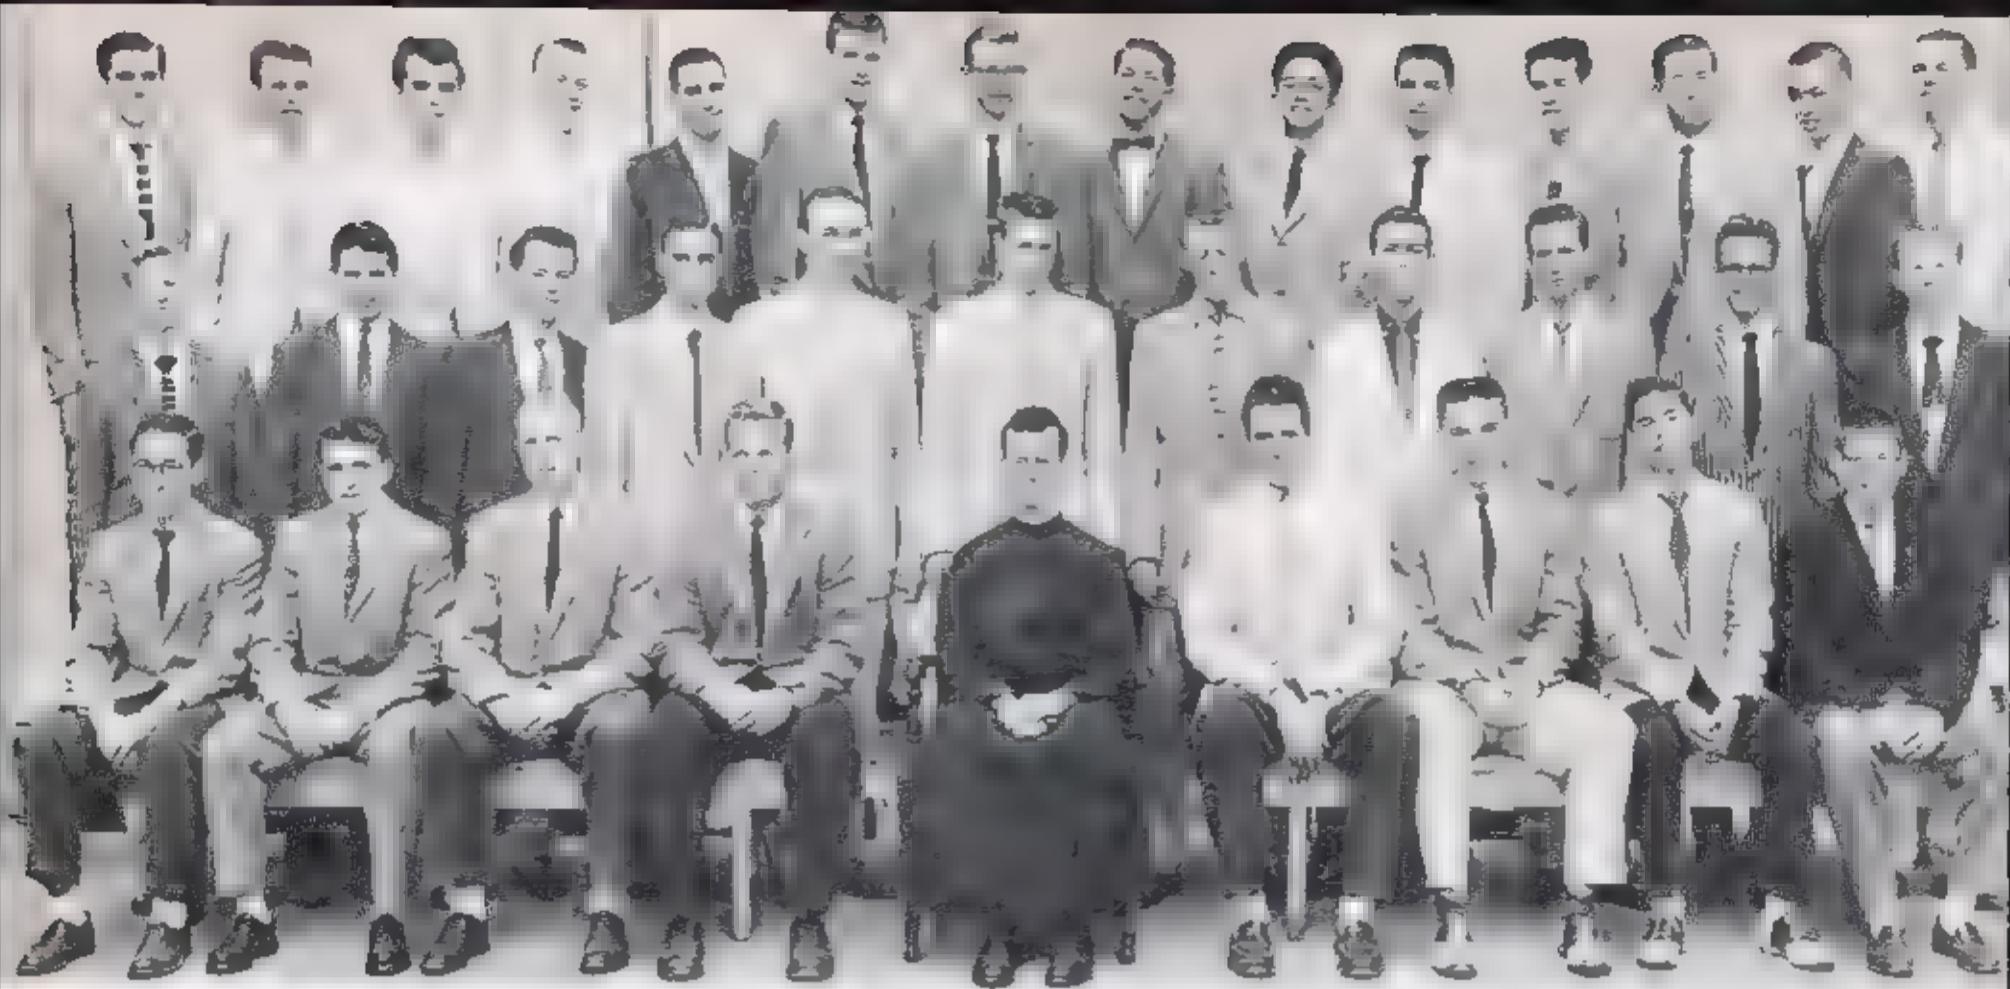

Al Campbell. Chosen by his class mates as Best Baseball Player and Best All-Around Athlete for his outstanding play on gridiron and diamond.

Dick Eppard. Four year varsity football veteran receives the vote of the seniors for Best Football Player.

Dan Slattery. Varsity veteran, always a consistent scorer and an outstanding rebounder, he wins the title of Best Basketball Player.

4-A

Well, it's all over now—there is nothing left but the memories. The class of '58 is just a name. Little did we realize upon entering Kohlman Hall what the next four years would hold. The traditional spirit of Gonzaga took grasp and is being upheld in the finest standards by the present senior class; the leadership offered by the seniors in the various activities, the trip to the Loyola game to witness the Eagles triumph, and lastly, the banner displayed from the Washington Monument, an unparalleled accomplishment since Gonzaga's founding, are but a few examples of the spirit existing. We the members of 4A are proud to be a part of the past four years, and the memories which we take away will always have a place in our fondest recollections. To our Senior Teachers, we offer a brief but sincere word of thanks.

As seniors, there were two questions in our minds on the first day of school. One was: "To which class would we be assigned?" The other was: "How well would we do as seniors?" The first question was answered right away as we found ourselves in 4B, which was composed principally of familiar faces from 2D and 3B. Mr. Redmond, S.J. was our Religion and German teacher. Fr. McCawley, S.J. taught us the wonders of Physics, and we are still wondering. Mr. Gavin, S.J. served as our Mathematics instructor, and Mr. Barber, S.J. led us through Latin and English.

The second question was answered as we progressed through the year. At the end of the year we found ourselves near the top of the senior classes. V. Calder, T. Rose, D. Sobers and P. Banda were selected as president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary respectively. Nearly every member of 4B was engaged in an extra-curricular activity. Although we may not remember every detail of the events that took place in class, we will certainly recall with nosalgia the spirit and friendship of the class of 4B.

W. Schoeni and J. Klish wait expectantly to see the German film Mr. Redmond, S.J. is about to show.

For the past three years we have looked forward to being seniors, and after surviving many struggles we have now attained that title. Many years from now when we page back through this yearbook, some of the fondest memories of our youth as Gonzaga seniors will be recalled. We will remember the football games, the class-nights, the dances, and 4-C. For here, under the guidance of Mr. Ahern, S.J. we took an active part in every activity in the school. From the Washington Monument to the Athletic-locker room, the spirit of 4-C was amply displayed. "Never—say—die" was our motto. As the year progressed, we elected A. Campbell president and also J. Fenlon, J. Shaffer and J. Eustace to the respective duties of Vice president, treasurer and secretary. Although the roads of life will disperse us in many fields we will always be proud to say "We are Gonzaga men."

J. Shaffer reads the day's lesson in English period. Mr. Ahern, S. J. requires that all students recite in front of class.

4-D

4-D students this year displayed a wide range of talents in activities within and outside Gonzaga. C. Liekweg, class president and Student Council vice-president, was an outstanding member of the football squad. J. Macfarlane served as vice-prefect of the senior Sodality and was active in the Washington Junior Red Cross. J. Francis compiled an impressive record for the debating team, while P. McGraw received the best actor award in the Washington One-Act Play Contest. L. Murrow served as secretary of the class, corresponding secretary of the Student Council and secretary of the senior Sodality.

J. Rubino was vice-president of the class and D. Slattery was treasurer. McGraw served as the Booster's Club representative.

Teachers included Mr. Greene, S.J. guidance and Math; Father Clements, S.J., Religion; Father McCawley, S.J., Physics; Mr. Ahern, S.J., Latin and English; Mr. Burch, S.J., French; and Mr. Redmond, S.J., German.

Operations with roots of literal numbers are made easy at D. Slattery explains how to do last night's homework.

Our school life encompasses a treasury of memories, involving more than a mere space of years. For we easily remember the KBS Mass or an assembly or rally. We can picture the Purple and White dance held after a football game, and recall many other experiences which constituted our lives as underclassmen. It seems strange that we should recollect all these simple incidents and yet we realize that it was through these that we made progress towards our goal.

Underclassmen

At the end of the year, some Gonzaga boys assemble before the bus as they enjoy a class picnic at Sandy Point Beach, Maryland.

Fr. Hocking and the I.C. Boosters lead the Don's prize bull during halftime "ceremonies" at the Loyola game in Baltimore. Loyola is a Jesuit rival.

3-A

"C'est tout" has been written to Junior Year. Now we of 3-A look with excitement towards the honors of Senior Year, but still we can already review the fond memories of our third year at Gonzaga. Mr. Cahill, S.J., as homeroom teacher, led us through Religion, Latin, and French, while Fr. Hammett, S.J., Mr. Gavin, S.J., and Mr. Mawhinney, S.J., guided us to a fuller understanding of Chemistry, Geometry, and English, respectively.

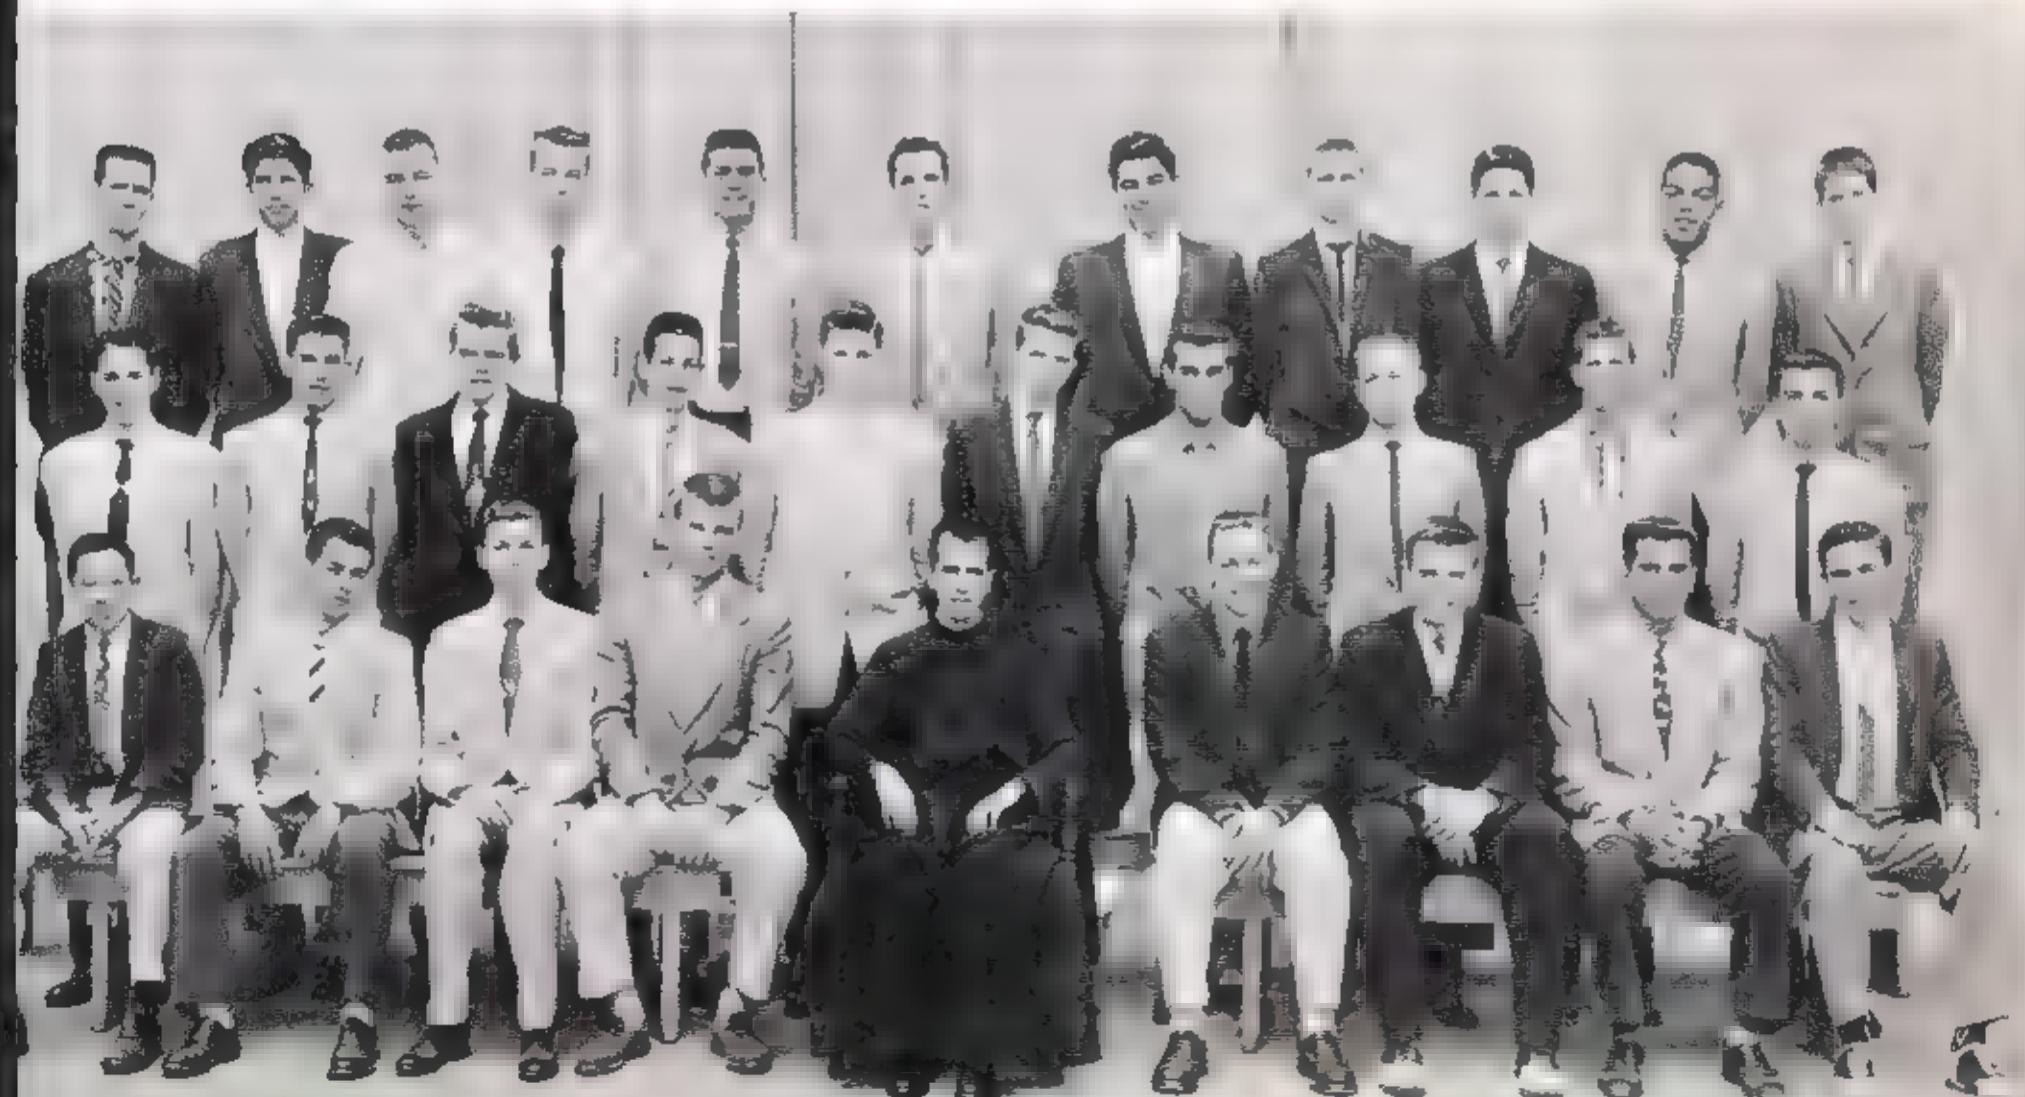

The boys of 3-A earned the respect of all by their high academic standards but our success was not limited to scholastic matters alone. L. Denny, J. Kalil, J. Lazzari, K. McCarthy, J. McGann, B. O'Hare, J. Wolf, and M. Word represented 3-A in athletics while J. Browne, R. Burch, G. Caggiano, and H. Sterling, and J. Wilson held our banner high in the various other activities around the school.

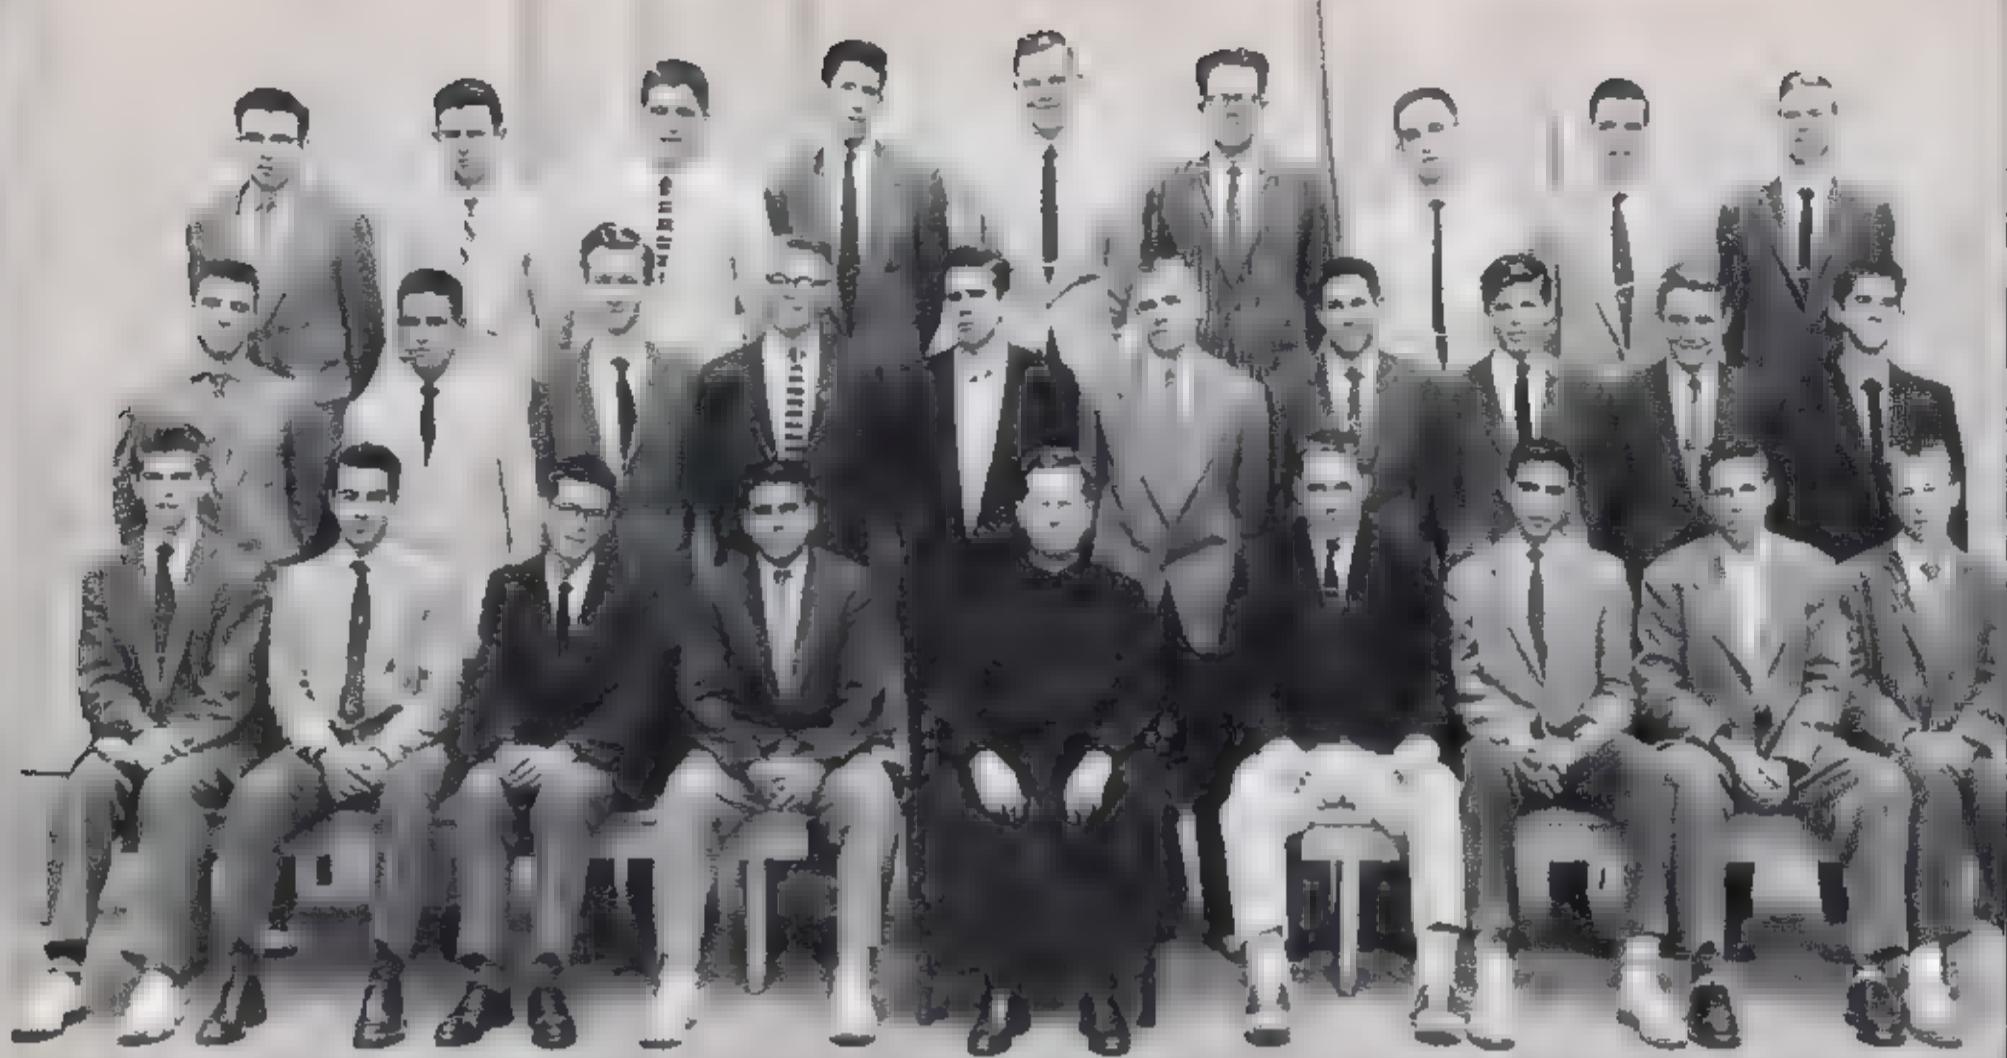

Yes, we can look back with pride as we unceasingly strive on for higher learning.

Mr. Cahill, S.J. questions J. Mattare on the Reader which, together with conversation and grammar, is required for French students.

First Row: R. Barretto, E. Nigro, R. Burch (Sectr.), J. McGann (Pres.), Mr. Cahill, S.J., J. F. Wolf (Vice-Pres.), B. O'Hare (Treas.), J. Kalil, D. Shaffrey, Second Row: J. Martin, J. Lazzari, M. Yourshaw.

Progress has been the by-word for Class 3-B ever since it was formed in September. Early in the year we elected our officers and L. Banda was chosen President, C. Wolf, vice-president, F. Minni, treasurer and W. Hall, secretary. Under the guiding hands of Father Hammett, S.J., our homeroom teacher, and assisted by Mr. Redmond, S.J., Mr. McGoldrick, S.J., Mr. Winner, and Mr. Fahy, we have traveled far on the road to success.

3-B ranks high academically and also in extra curricular activities. Many, if not all are in some after school project. 3-B is well represented in the Band, Math Club, Booster Club, and others. Sports ranks first in preference and 3-B has contributed to both the inter-mural and varsity fields. C. Wolf, B. Banfield, and L. Banda all saw action on the gridiron.

Classmates of 3-B will long remember their Junior Year at Gonzaga.

Following directions, W. Hall cautiously mixes the chemical ingredients, wondering whether or not Fr. Hammett's Chemistry Lab will blow up.

3-C

"O temporal O mores!" This sentence from Cicero was often heard from the lips of a 3-C boy. But as the weeks progressed we soon began to appreciate hard work. It paid off when 3-C won the Latin contest and a holiday.

Under the able instruction of Mr. McGoldrick, S.J., we were schooled in Religion, Latin, Greek, and English. We were also taught by Mr. Gavin, S.J., Mr. Redmond, S.J., and Mr. Burch, S.J.

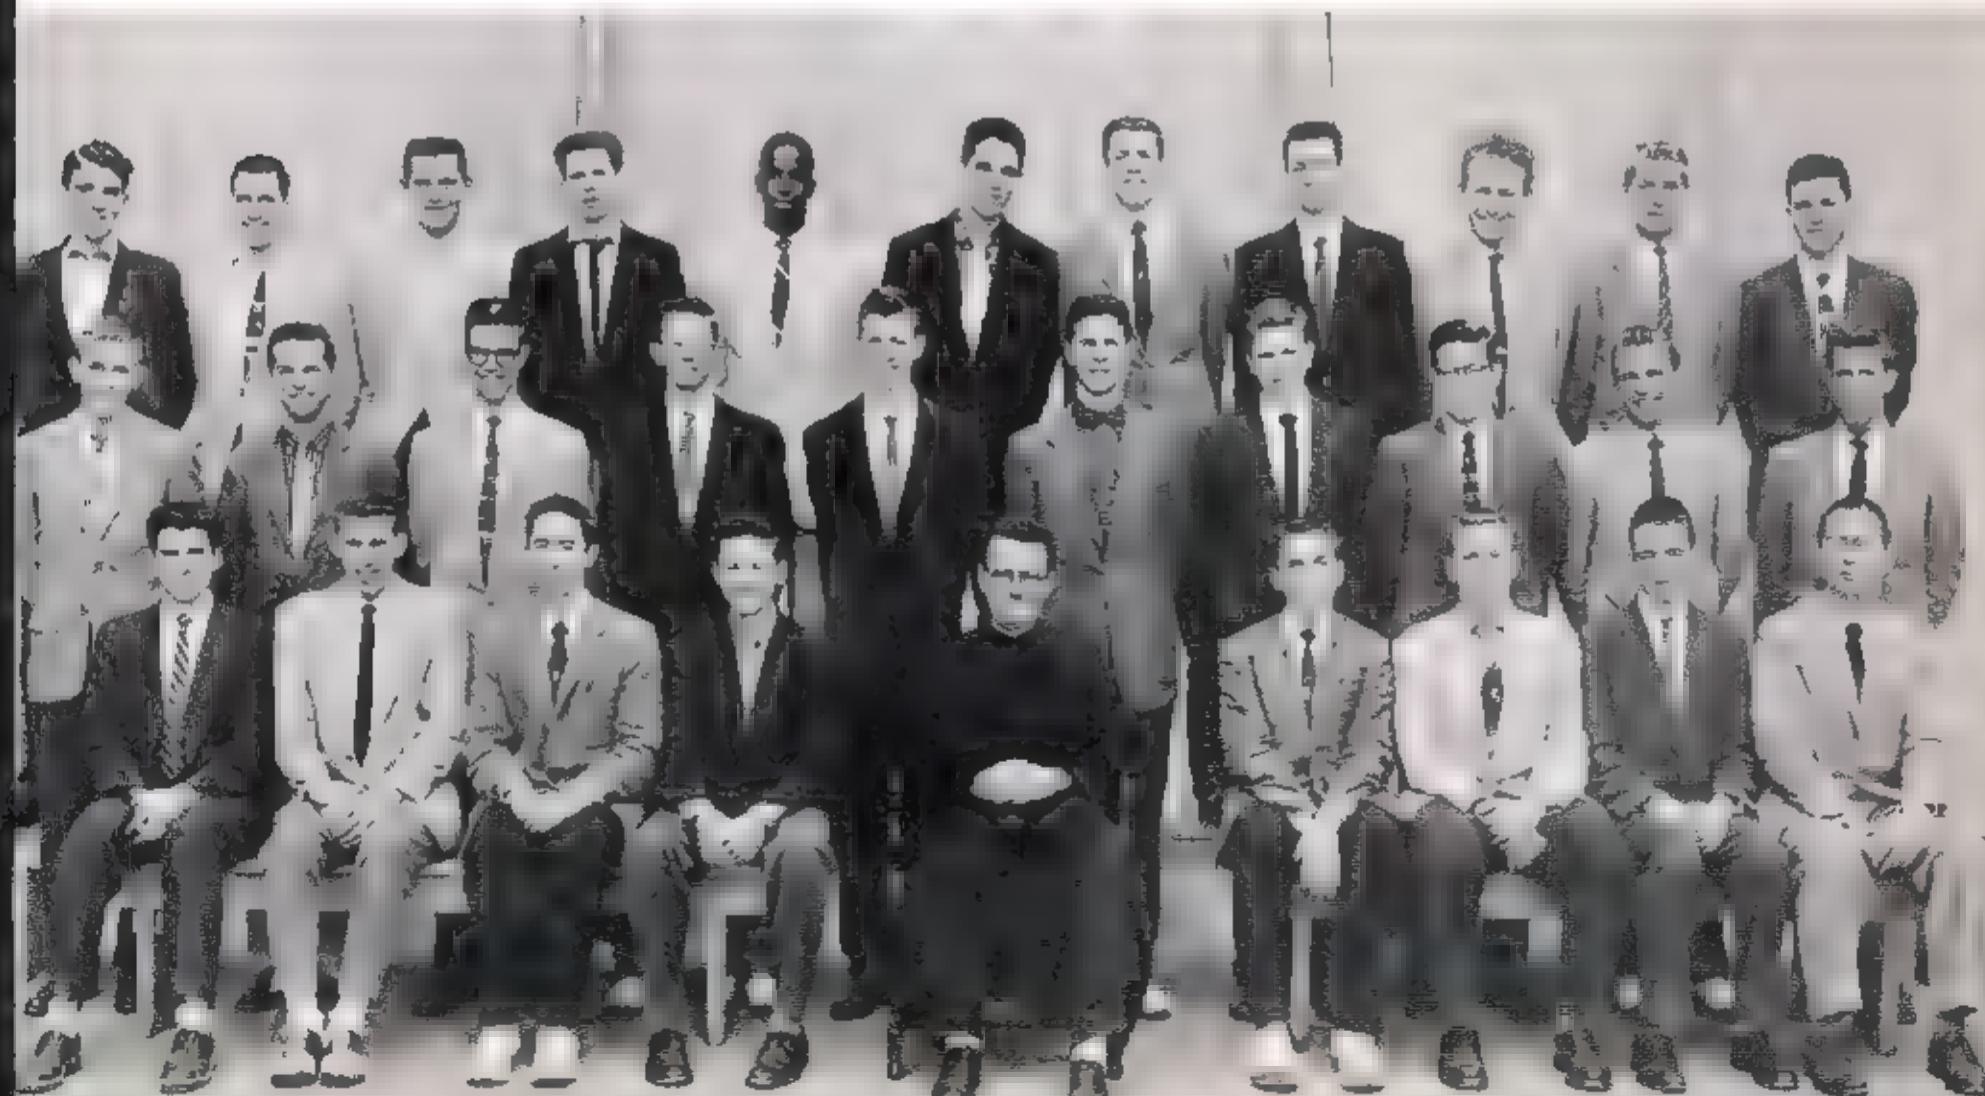

C. Keffer, R. Larner, J. English, and S. Lyddane were elected class officers. In the Junior Division of intramural football, 3-C went undefeated in 5 games. 13 of the 20 Sodalists were from our room and B. Roache and G. Slocum again edited the Soladist paper. J. Fallon and T. O'Malley played on the J.V. basketball team. T. Lisi continued his work on the Student Council. 3-C was also represented in many other activities.

There remains but Senior Year and then the day when we will be able to put into practice what we have learned.

At the beginning of Greek Class, Mr. McGoldrick, S.J. corrects T. Mitten's homework sentences while S. Lyddane checks his own.

First Row R. Mudd, M. Regan, T. Hardy, J. English, (Secr.), Mr. B. McGoldrick, S.J., T. Mitten, V. Arendes, R. Sullivan, T. Lisi Second Row R. Curtin, B. Roache, C. Keffer, (Pres.), P. Kilcullen, R. Larner, (Vice Pres.), J. Michalowicz, R. Goodwin, J. McMahon, R. Harris, M. Risacher Third Row M. McCloskey, G. Slocum, W. Walsh, W. Colona, E. Deas, K. Fitzgerald, J. Fallon, G. McKnight, F. Hynek, S. Lyddane, (Treas.), E. Murdock

Last September, with two years of Gonzaga already behind us, twenty-seven eager Juniors entered classroom 3-D and found their homeroom teacher to be Mr. Roberts, S.J. Our other teachers were Father Hammett, S.J., Mr. Burch, S.J., Mr. Fahy, and Mr. Whitcomb

Our class spirit was clearly shown by placing members on nearly every school activity including Varsity and J.V. football, basketball and baseball, the poster club, and debating.

As the year went on we elected our class officers: P. Frendach, president; J. Leyes, vice president; and M. Greene, secretary-treasurer. J. Panther was elected intramural captain and as a result the class did very well in intramural sports.

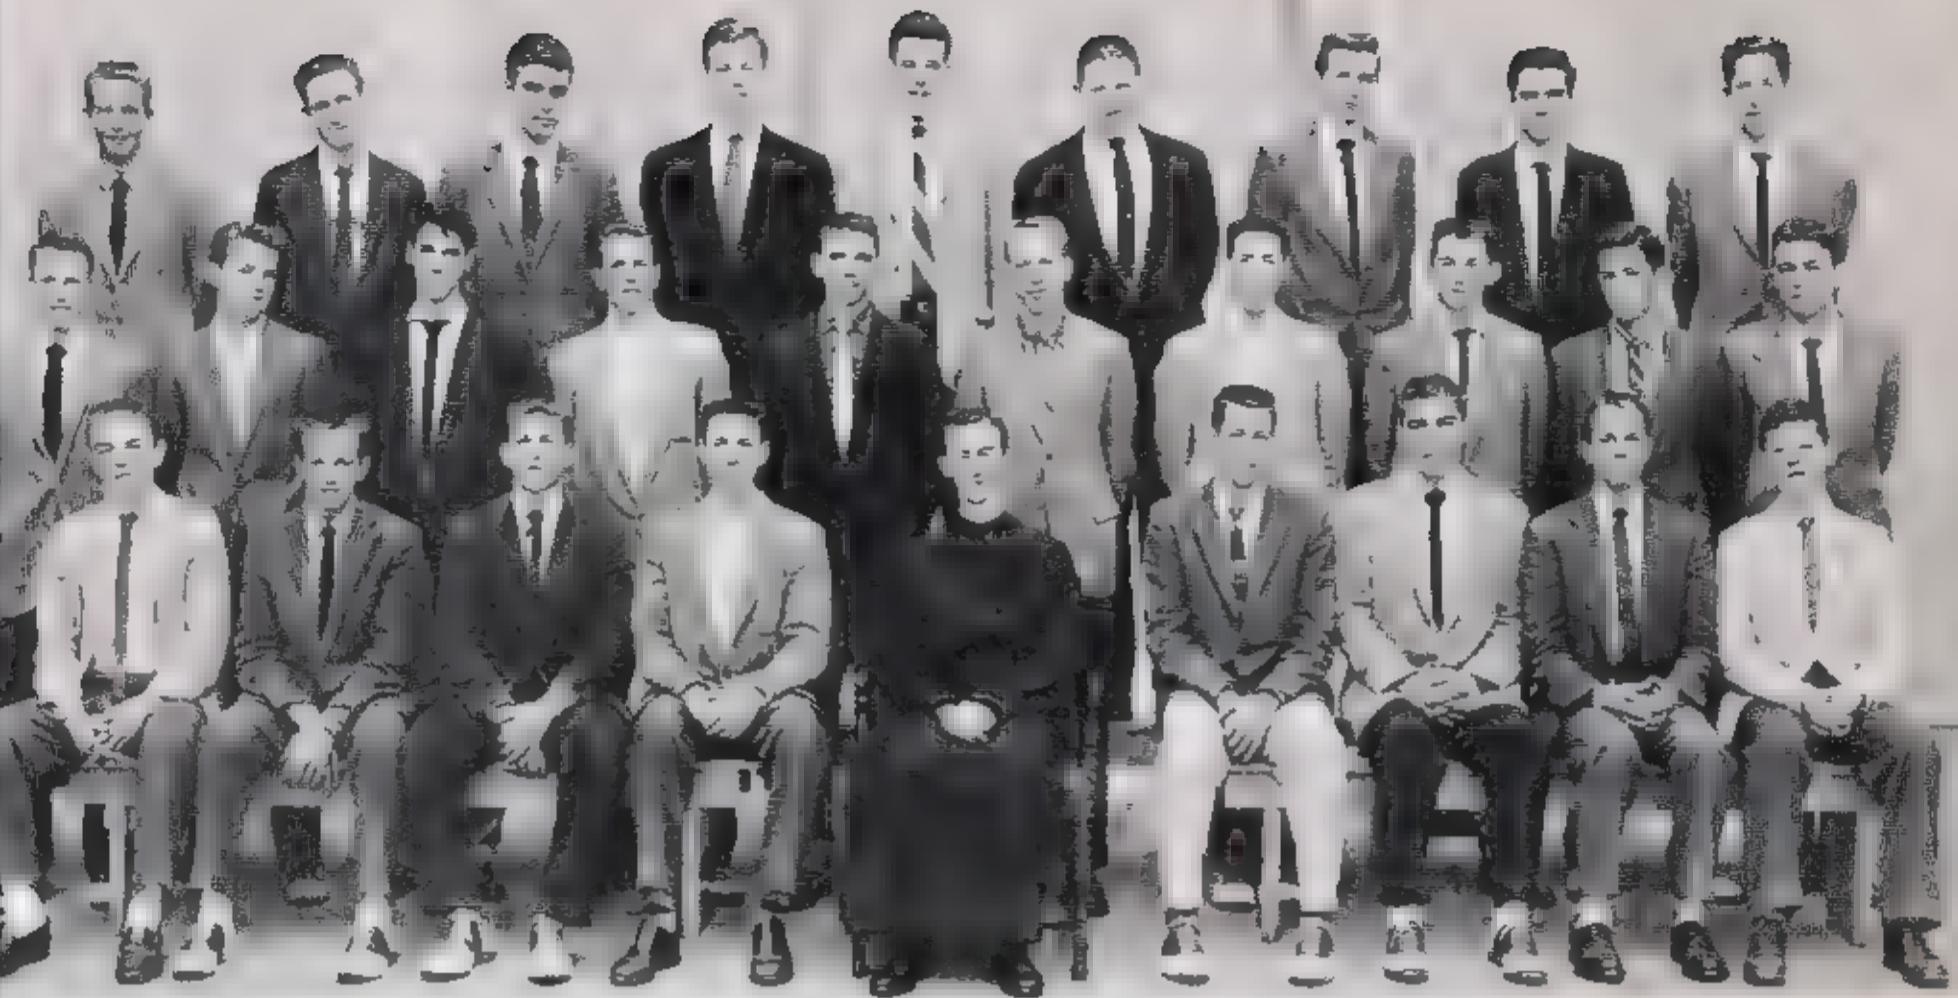

All tried to make the best of the year and with the guidance of our able and patient teachers most of us formed a sound foundation for Senior year.

One day we will all look back on our Junior year with pleasant memories of class 3-D

The camera's eye catches J. Leyes, M. Greene, and P. Frendach, the officers of 3-D, in a pose before the weekly class meeting.

First Row: D. Dent, W. Howell, M. Greene (Seer-Treas.) P. Frendach (Pres.), Mr. Roberts, S.J., J. Leyes (Vice-Pres.), R. Johnson, T. Clark, E. Fitzgerald. Second Row: T. Hamp, R. Saemann, P. Oberman, S. Richter, T. Anderson, P. McManus, R. Violett, S. Jones, K. Lloyd. Third Row: D. McLaughlin, J. Bachman, J. Vail, J. Panther, B. Morris, G. Mallet Prevost, R. Kemp, T. Casen.

First Row: J. Broderick, R. Foster, (Sectr.), J. Raley (Pres.), Mr. John J. Mawhinney, S.J., R. Fitzgerald (Vice-Pres.), K. MacCarthy (Treas.), R. Hodson, D. Malloy, Second Row: D. Molumby, J. Ward, J. Link, T. McKevitt, H. Baker, J. Mulroe, A. Ritchie, F. Breen, E. Kemper, J. Lojacono, Third Row: R. Murphy, J. McKenna, A. Scully, H. Rowen, J. Sheahan, J. Ross, W. Taylor, C. Horan.

Glad as we are that school is out—Class 3-E has many fond memories.

Under the able tuition of Mr. Mawhinney, S.J., our homeroom teacher, we learned Christian Doctrine, English, and Latin. Mr. Burch, S.J., led us through the maze of French Grammar and punctuated it with many interesting side-lights. Mr. Whitcomb instilled in us an expert knowledge of Geometry, and Fr. Hammett, S.J., left us masters of Chemistry.

Extra-curricular activities received their share of support from us. Besides having several classmates in the Sodality, we were represented in the Student Council, the debating Society, the school newspaper and the Glee Club. The more athletic among us participated in varsity and J.V. football and basketball as well as in other sports. Finally several members from our class were cheerleaders.

If senior year is for us, as junior year has been, we shall graduate Christian Gentlemen—in the tradition of Gonzaga.

After the Second Bell, Mr. Mawhinney, S.J. and the class recite the Morning Offering each day before Religion period.

"Kill The Kadets" shouts the crowd at the St. John's game. A helium-filled balloon with a "Beat St. John's" banner glides over Griffith Stadium.

Mr. Thomas Nolan, Lt. Ralph Guglielmi, Mr. Bob Addie and Mr. Bill Ring, all distinguished in the world of sports, speak at the St. John's rally

At halftime, J. Messer fills the balloon to life a banner over the field in the St. John's game at Griffith Stadium.

First Row J. Stout, R. McCarthy, G. Reed (Treas.), A. Clark (Pres.), Fr. Murray, S.J., F. Santoro (Vice-Pres.), W. Giacofci (Sectr.), F. Brophy, L. Haddad Second Row T. Finney, K. Lithowski, J. Martino, J. Wood, J. Scanlon, D. Treacy, D. Carr, F. Moore Third Row J. English, G. Heller, S. McClure, J. Reagan, J. Courtney, C. Deacon, M. Strub, J. Rick.

2-A

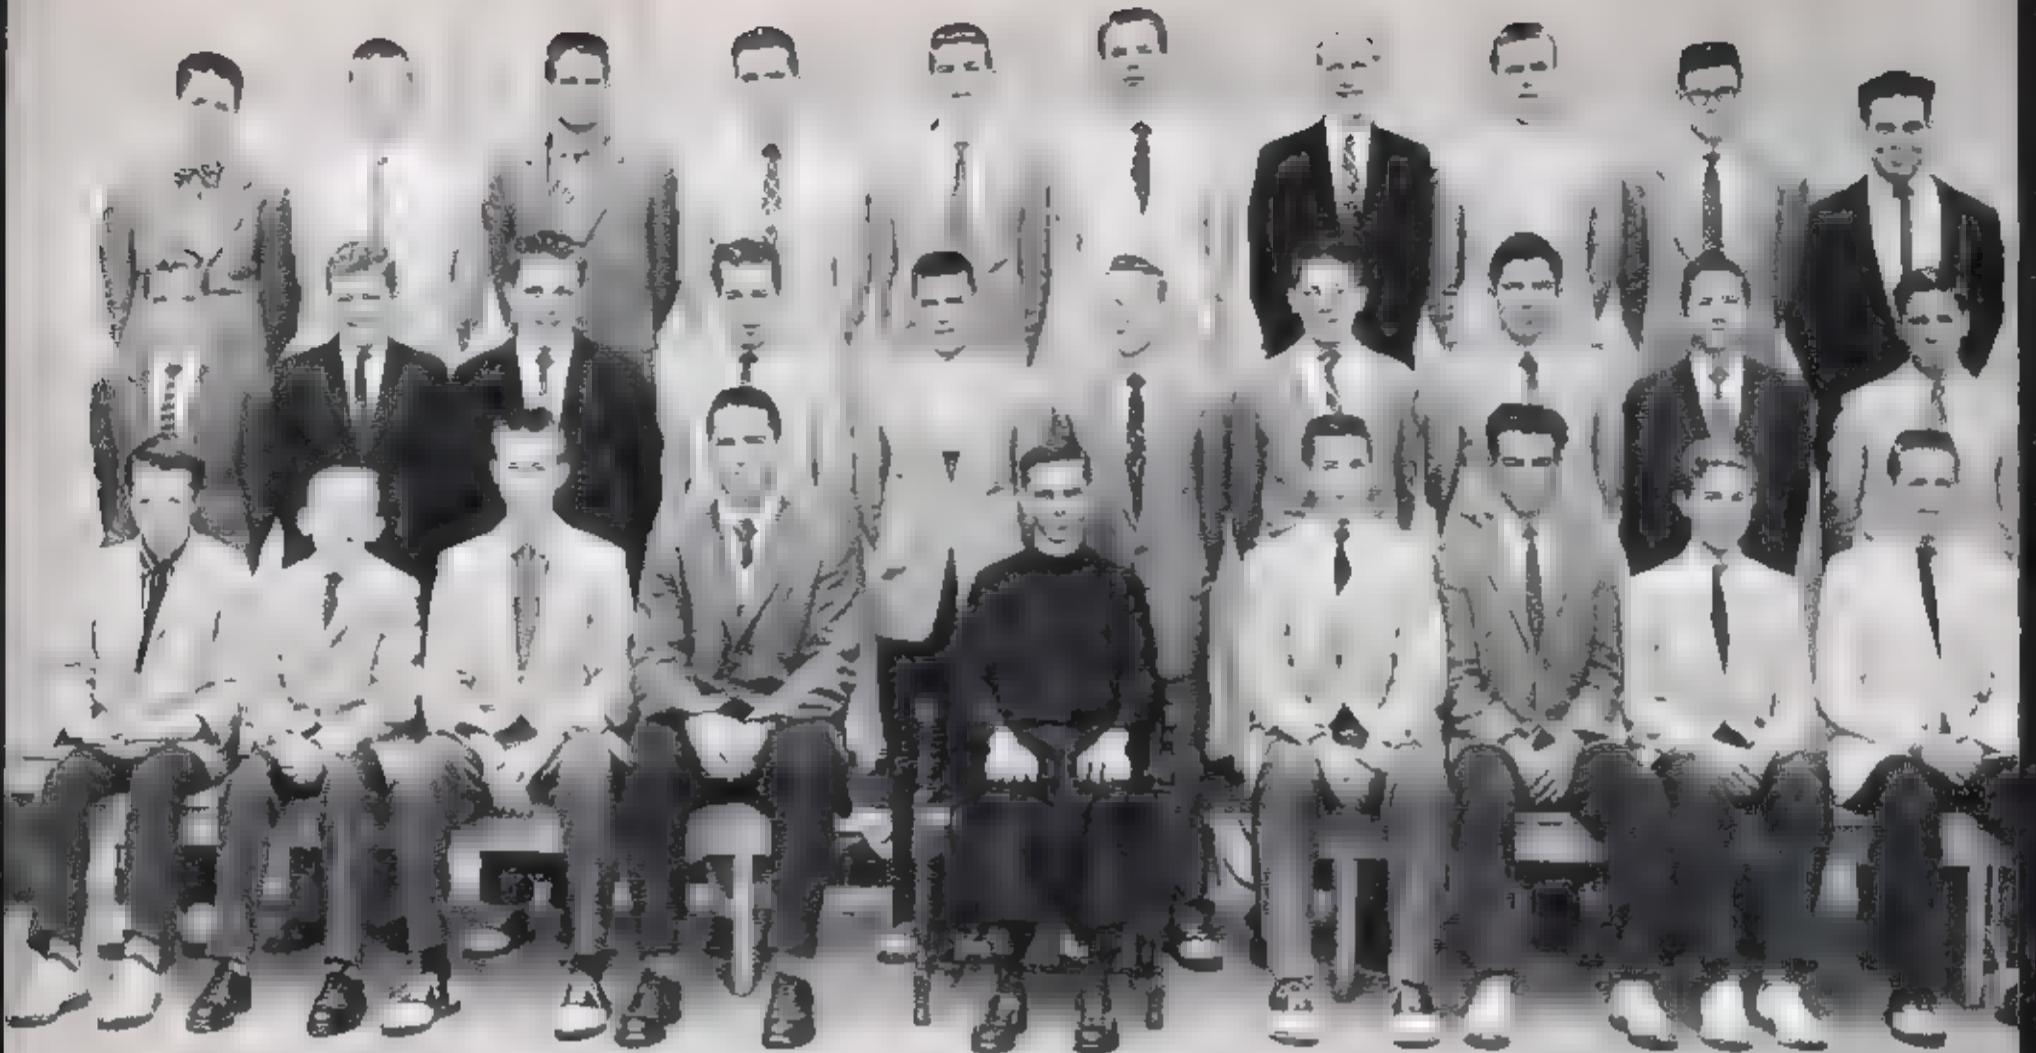

There is not one student in 2-A who is inactive. Each member of the first advanced class at Gonzaga is kept busy with plenty of school work. Gonzaga gives him, in this course, the opportunity to broaden his knowledge as much as he is able.

It is not all school work in 2-A. Many members of the honors course are in the Sophomore Sodality. Two students are in the School Band. Some of the winning debators in the Champion Debating Society come from this class. 2-A is represented in both the Booster Club and the Poster Club. Other members are on the staff of the Aquilian and on the Stage Crew. In addition, 2-A has been very successful in intramural athletics.

The student of 2-A is truly a very active member of Gonzaga. He is a good scholar, a sportsman, a supporter of school activities, and a promoter of school spirit.

"Despite"—shouts F. Brophy. Father Murray, S.J., leads 2-A through a difficult chapter in Caesar under simulated battle conditions.

"To be" or not "to be", that is not the question. In fact, there is no question about it; 2B has had a successful and prosperous year. Class 2B is made up of all boys of all types; the brains, the strugglers, the extroverts, the meek, the athletes, and the "jug-heads". We also have our band men, boosters, library aides, and singers.

We are being groomed, and it takes time, two years so far, to go out into the world as Gonzaga men. Under the tutelage of Father Murray, S.J., Fr. Burke, S.J., Mr. Hughes, S.J., our homeroom teacher, Mr. Duggan, S.J., and Mr. Lelii, S.J., we are being "Latinized", "Englishized", and "Biologized". We are also chastized when necessary, by Father Clements, S.J. We struggle, we study, we fret, we alibi to no avail and we learn, as do all Gonzaga students.

We will, as we grow older, reflect Gonzaga's training to the world.

Students gathering around the door are greeted by Mr Hughes as they hesitantly enter the class room before the final bell rings.

The Gonzaga student must be conscious of two things; his own God-given abilities and the spirit of his school. Moreover, his concern for both must be shown in concrete instances.

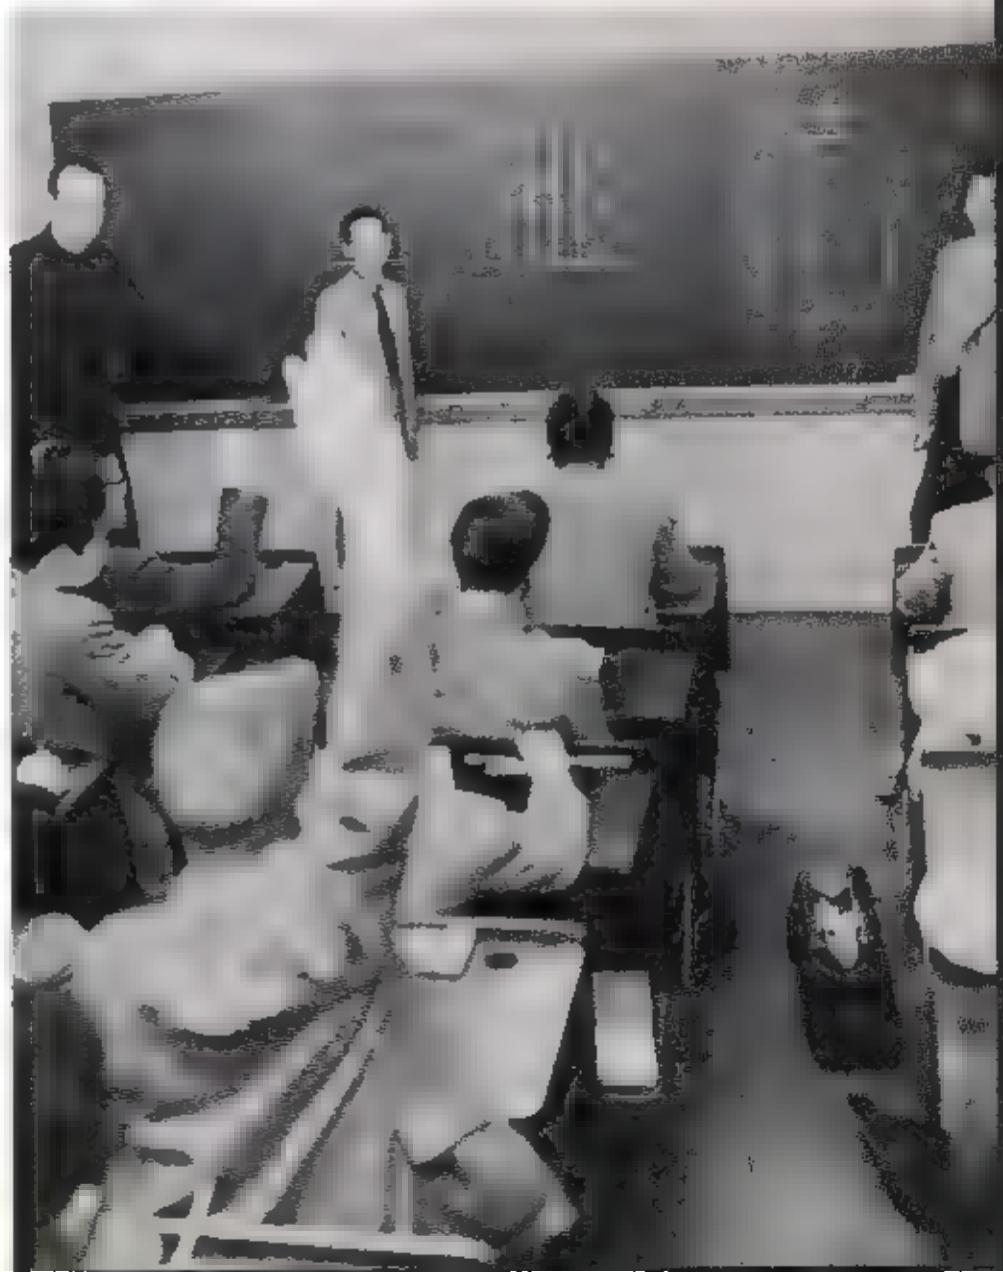

The members of 2-C, the sophomore Greek class under their competent teachers, Fr. Burke, S.J., Fr. Murray, S.J., Mr. Duggan, S.J. (homeroom teacher), Mr. Roberts, S.J., and Mr. Mawhinney, S.J., have shown this concern.

The tradition of good scholastic achievement in the Greek Class was continued as more than one-third of the class received consistent honors.

School organizations which counted 2-C members on their lists were the Sodality, the Student Council, the Dramatic Society, the Band, the Debating Society, the Glee Club, the Football teams, the J.V. Basketball team, and the Baseball team.

The class boosters won a prize for their work. The intramural teams had consistently good averages. The class published its own newspaper.

The officers were R. Schombert, H. Partridge, J. Colona, and E. McReady.

A. DiCanzio and R. Schombert keep score as W. Mauser tries for the extra point to break the tie while Mr. Duggan S. J., referees an algebra quiz.

2-D

Homeroom teacher Mr. Lelii, S.J., welcomed 28 sophomores to 2 D on the morning of Tuesday, September 10. Before the end of the day, Mr. Roberts, S.J., Mr. Duggan, S.J. and Mr. Donohue had taught in their new class. Within the next few weeks, W. Spellbring, M. O'Donoghue, N. Grillo, and T. Brown were elected officers.

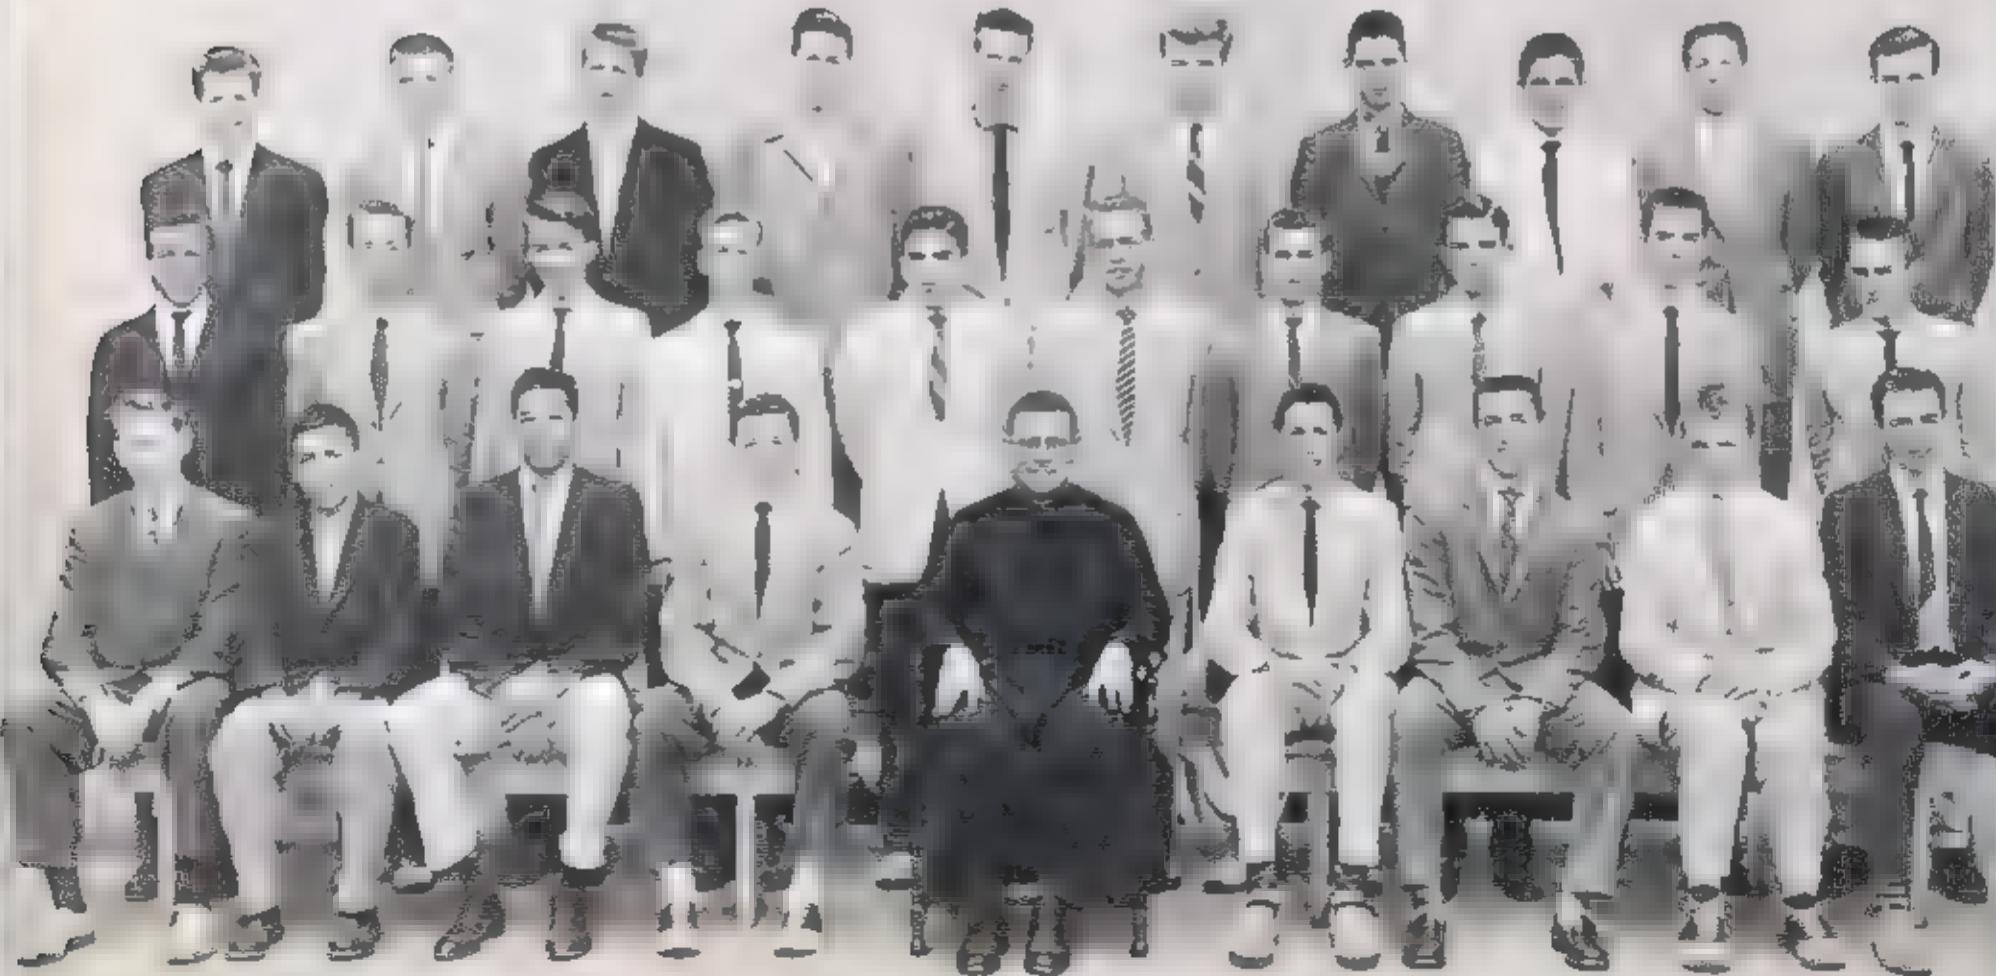

The football season was in full swing and so was 2-D. The class won first prize for its Wilson's game poster. Meanwhile, 7 2 D'ers were playing J.V. football and one was on the Varsity.

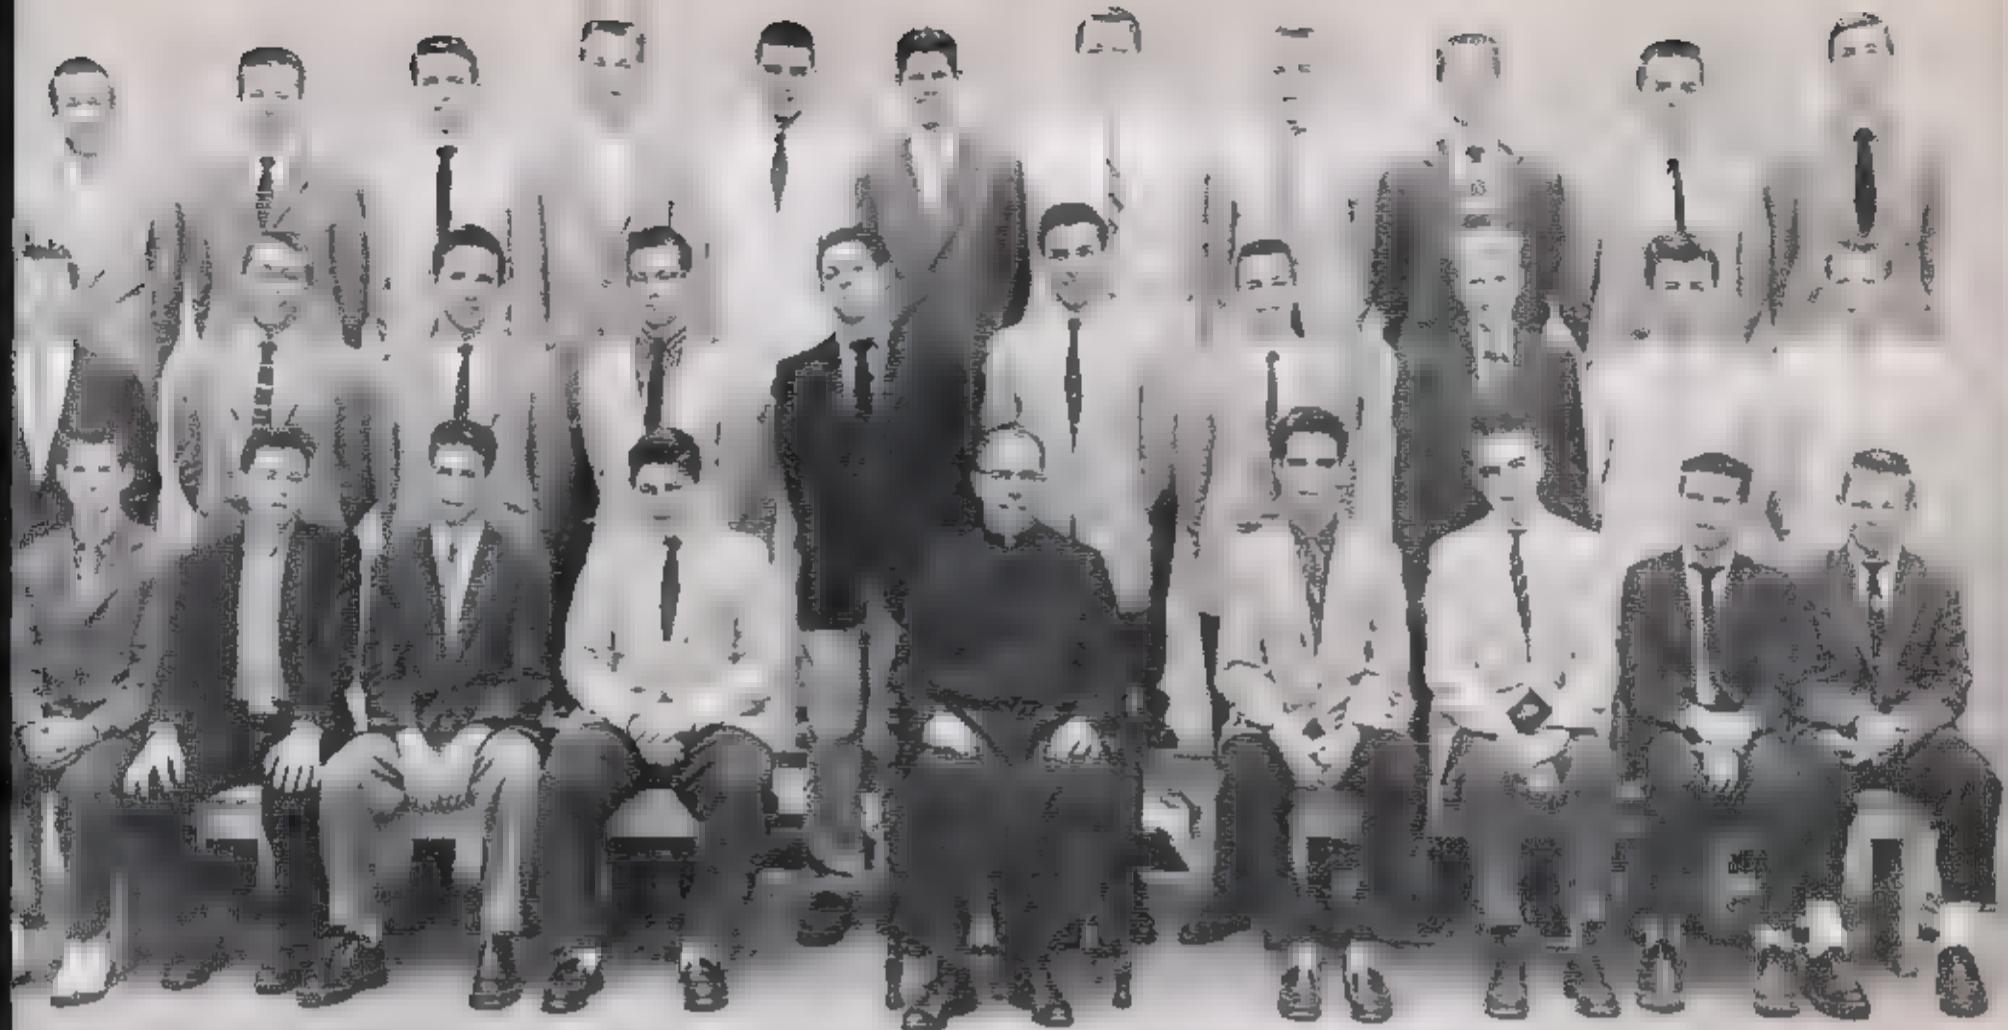

The other school activities reawakened, and in each the class was represented. Four were enrolled in the Sodality. J. Barnard and W. Spellbring began work for the school paper. Others were to be found in the band while M. O'Donoghue represented the class in public speaking.

Throughout the year 2-D was always well represented at dances, plays, and athletic events.

While the entire class watches the charts on the board Mr. Lelii, S.J. points out the structure of the honeybee.

2-E

No longer freshmen, the students of 2-E were quick to realize that as upperclassmen more was expected of them than when they were first year men. The class elections were held early, and when the votes were counted, the new officers were M. Kirby, J. Matelis, and C. Dawson, President, Secretary and Treasurer, respectively.

Under the careful guidance of homeroom teachers Fr. O'Rourke, S.J., and Mr. Hughes, S.J., Mr. Lelii, S.J., and Mr. Winner, the boys soon fell into the spirit of school life and assumed their duties as sophomores, by setting example for the freshmen and striving towards scholastic accomplishments.

A large section of the class was participating in the extra curricular activities which the school offers. 2-E was well represented in the band, in the Biology club, and many other activities, including the Sodality and intramural, J.V. and varsity sports, making the class a well rounded solid part of the Gonzaga student body.

2-F

As the accumulated dust of Summer began to clear we found ourselves in the Gonzaga penthouse "2-F" ready for another Winter of activity and adventure. The year was spent traveling through Caesar's Rome and Gaul with Mr. Burch, S.J., through Chaucer's and Tennyson's England with Mr. Hughes, S.J., through the abstract world of Algebra with Mr. Duggan, S.J., and through the biological structure of creation with Mr. Lelii, S.J.

After our daily classes were finished we could be found, almost to a man, contributing to the variety of spiritual and intellectual extra-curricular activities. We were well represented on the J.V. and Varsity teams and early in the year began our class paper, the "2-F News and School Report."

2-F may have been numbered last among the Sophomore classes but we have proved ourselves far from last in every other respect. We men of 2 F shall continue to give our all for Gonzaga.

R. Sladek explains the derivation of several words from Latin roots to J. O'Connor, while Mr. Burch, S.J. offers some professional advice.

1-A

We remember walking down Eye Street that day, last September. Before us loomed a strange new life, far different from the carefree days of grammar school. It hardly seemed possible, then, that we could ever belong to Gonzaga as the upper classmen did.

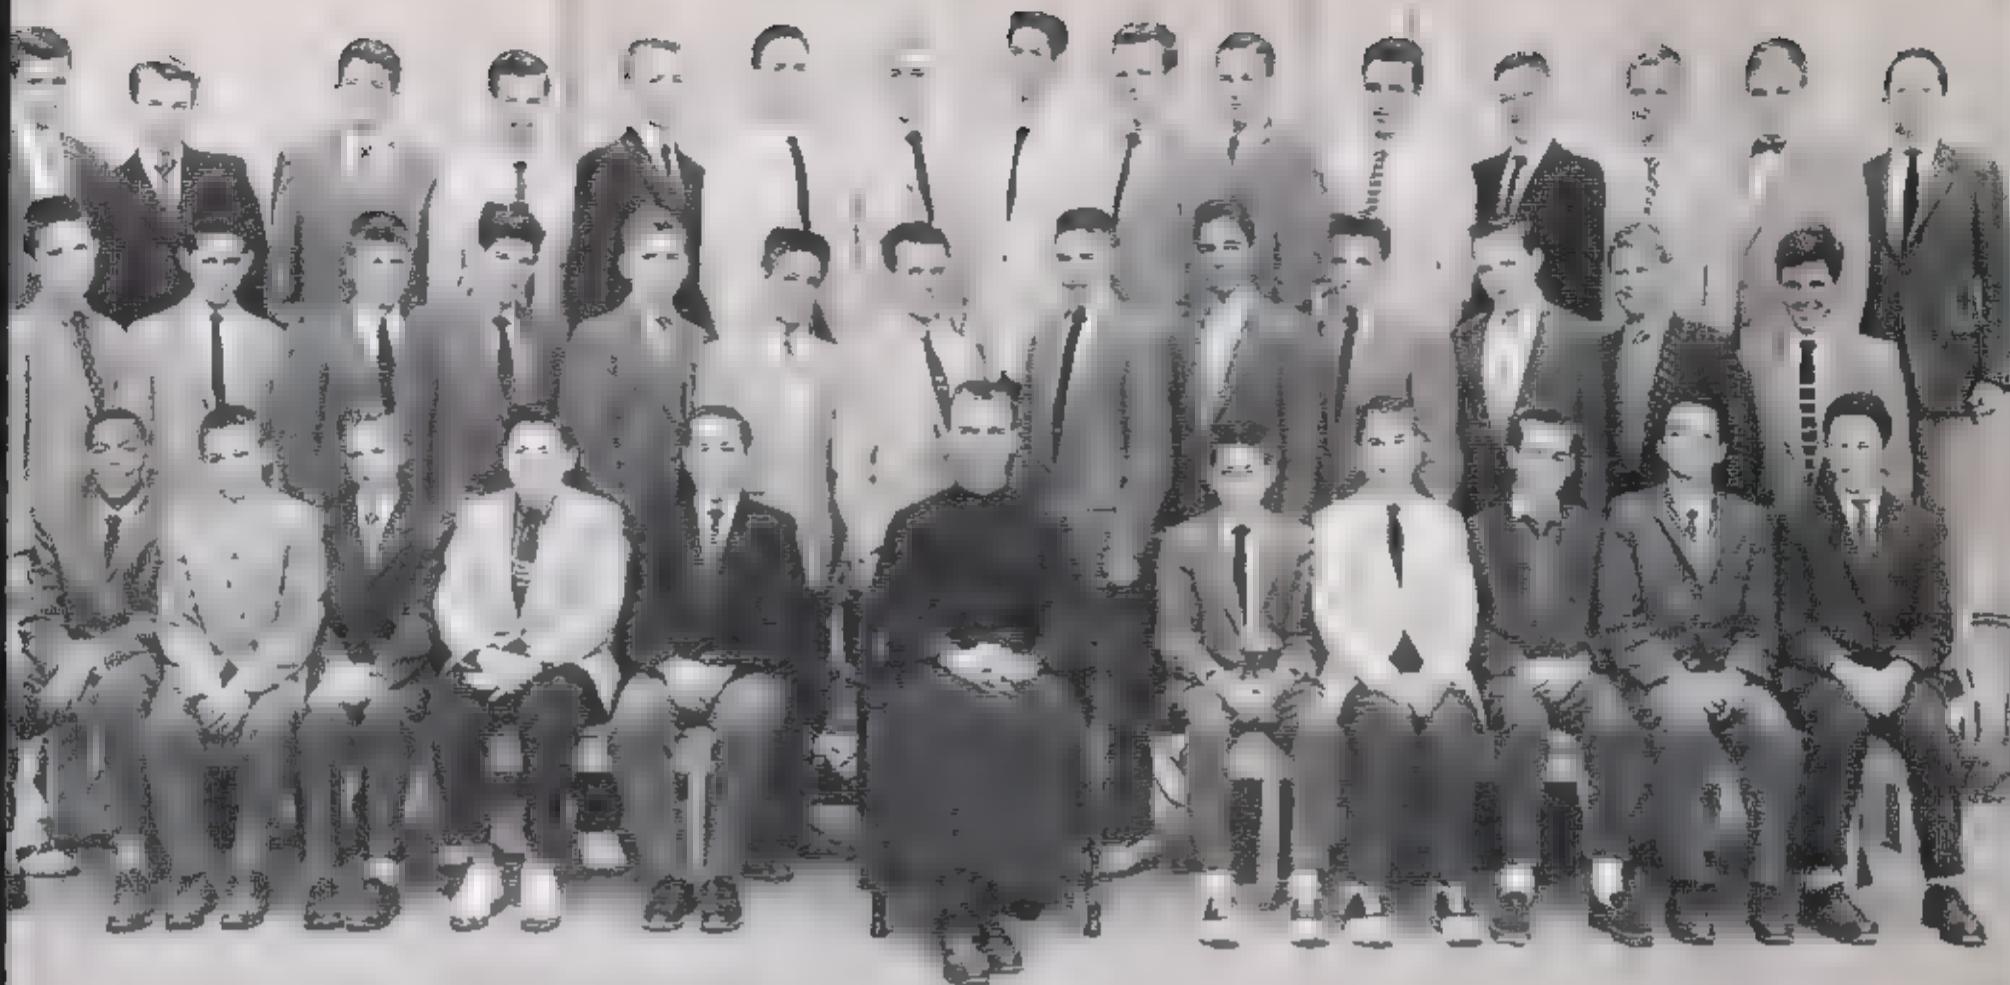

But now, as we finish our first year, we already feel as if we belong to Gonzaga and Gonzaga to us. One big reason we feel this way is our teachers: Mr. Fahy, our homeroom teacher and our mentor of Religion and Latin; Mr. Greene, S.J., Math and Speech; Mr. McCloskey, S.J., English; and Mr. Lerario, our History teachers. Another reason is a very able group of class officers: R. Manasseri, our president; R. Calgaro, vice-president; S. Zarechnak, treasurer; and C. Downey, our secretary.

All these men and boys have combined their talents to make our class live with school spirit and a slogan come true, "All the Way with 1-A."

The wooden floors vibrated a familiar sound as we boys of 1-B made a climb we would be making quite often in the future. The eight years passed had been spent in preparation for what was coming and it was with high expectation that we went to meet our future.

As the year progressed under the direction of our teachers, Mr. McCloskey, S.J., Mr. Lerario, and Mr. Whitcomb, we found that our expectations had been true to form with plenty of hard work mixed with fun to make the painful process of learning easier.

Early in the year we selected our student leaders, G. Deacon, president; E. Earley, vice-president; J. Oberdorf, secretary; and J. Sheehan, treasurer, who proved very capable leaders in class spirit that resulted in men joining the Sodality and many other extra-curricular activities.

In the future when we look back at our years at Gonzaga we hope to see many prominent Catholic leaders who had their start in 1-B.

Assembling in September from places as distant as Okinawa and Berlin, by Christmas we had already lost one globe-trotter, but our copies of the Won-Cee Wild cat will remind us of all we shared together—of those fierce Latin games (with Scribo Crosby listing the touchbacks); of Club Ninety-Four, and Christmas Anti-freeze Assignments, and R-L-M rankings; of Mr. Whitcomb's infinite patience, and Mr. Lerario's history debates.

What pain it was on class nights to tear ourselves from basketball in order to stoke away the royal banquets our parents served us!

In the spirit of our prayer, "My Jesus, help me to give You my best," we worked hard, and one month we earned twenty-nine honor cards. We groaned together in failure and cheered together in success. We were more like brothers than most brothers, and we look forward to lifelong friendships begun at Gonzaga, 1-C.

With a clap of thunder we 1D troopers were accustomed to storm into an empty lunch room well ahead of our schoolmates, the result of the honor of being let out of our quarters in the far-distant Bellfree two minutes early for recess and lunch.

Along with our privileges, we 1D-ers had our problems. Every morning it was "around the room in 5 Minutes or bust" in "Latin Voc" drill. If we missed, we listened to Mr. Freeman's wrathful "D-O-P" or were advised to see the St. John's tailor for a fitting.

English period with Fr. Hocking, S.J., brings memories of halting recitations of the latest lines of "The Merchant of Venice", extra points for 1-Dispatch writers, and our attempts to crack the "93-barrier." And in History class we often complained, "Gee, Mr. Lerario, tryin' to member who Tutonkhamen and Prammitichus was ain't easy!"

But, problems and all, Erat "Bonissimus."

Before the class begins, the officers of 1 D discuss the day's coming activities with their home room teacher, Mr Freeman.

1-E

In early September of this year St. Aloysius School opened its doors to admit 76 Freshmen, 38 of whom were placed in 1-E. Many hours of hard work were meted out by our teachers, Fr. Bellwoar, S.J., Mr. Hughes, S.J., Miss Council, Mr. Kozik, and Mr. Freeman.

Fast progressing through the declensions, through equations, through call numbers, and through ancient history we realized the need for class officers. Those elected were M. Lopez, president, R. Asbill, vice-president, J. Boratenski, secretary, and M. Thornett, treasurer.

The various activities of the school counted many 1-E'ers as participants. Many 1-E'ers were active in Debating, the Sodality, the Aquilian, the Band, the Stage Crew, or the Library Club. Many more participated in J.V. and intra-mural football and in J.V. and freshman basketball.

As we of 1-E look to the future we hope to be exemplars of Gonzaga spirit and to be the leaders of tomorrow.

The purpose of Catholic Education is to train good Catholics. At Gonzaga the Sodality has a special role to play in achieving this goal. For the Sodality has as its purpose the perfection of this aim, that is, to train exemplary Catholics. "Ad Jesum per Mariam" is the motto of the Sodality and this motto summarizes perfectly the Sodalist's way of life. For, in all that he does, the Sodalist strives to sanctify his life by offering all his efforts and achievements to Thee, O Lord, through Mary.

"Ad Jesum, Per Mariam"—this is the worldwide motto of the Sodality toward which all Sodalists concentrate their entire efforts. By these words they cultivate a deeper love of Almighty God through a greater understanding of the Blessed Virgin Mary. In aiming for this end, no sacrifice is too great, no obstacle so acute that it cannot be overcome. The Sodalist is willing to sacrifice everything in order to become a true Apostolic leader and missionary of Christ.

For all Freshman Sodalists, the year is spent incorporating a knowledge of the Sodality, while living its rules. The probation period is spent learning the fundamentals of the Sodality, especially the observance of the rules, and cultivating a zealous love for Almighty God. This year the probation period has been extended from Freshman year alone to include the first half of Sophomore year. The Freshman Sodalists have completed this year of probation under the direction of Mr. Barber, S.J.

During the early part of second year the Sophomores further developed their interior life and by carrying on the work begun in the Freshman year. Also during this time great stress was given to the study of the Mass.

Later, after they took the temporary Act of Consecration the Sophomore Sodalists, under the leadership of Fr. John B. McGee, S.J., began the secondary duties of a Sodalist, that of becoming an Apostolic leader. They participated in panel discussions with Sodalists of other schools on timely Sodality topics. They also began working in the Christianform. Step by step the Sophomore Sodalists have been trained in the rules and duties of the Sodality and have truly begun to live a Sodality Way of Life.

The Junior Sodalists this year have centered their spiritual lives around a closer imitation of Christ. Through a thorough understanding of Christ's life, the Junior Sodalists have been able to draw closer to Him in their devotion. Since it is the essential duty of the Junior Sodality to develop into a true Apostolic leader the Juniors guided by Mr. Greene, S.J., undertook a greater number of Apostolic projects. They worked in the St. Vincent de Paul project and also at the Junior Red Cross. However the most important undertaking of the year has been the publication of the "Sodalist," a newspaper printed exclusively for Sodalists. The Junior Sodalists have aptly and successfully integrated the Sodality Way of Life with the principal work of Junior year.

During the past year the aim of the Senior Sodalists was to achieve greater personal sanctity while preparing themselves to carry on the Sodality Way of Life after graduation. To insure the Sodalist of attaining these goals, their moderator, Mr. McGoldrick, S.J., had special conferences with each Sodalist to aid him in any problems that he might have.

The Senior Sodality also worked at many Apostolic projects such as, collecting canned food, sponsoring the Mission Variety Show and the May devotions. They also gave their time to such projects as the Barney House, the Junior Red Cross, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and some Sodalists found time to take a course in the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. Three of the Sodalists participating in the CCD also began teaching religion classes. After working their way through four years of the Sodality, the Senior Sodalists have truly become more fervent in their devotion to Jesus through a more intelligent knowledge of Mary.

Activities supplement the principles learned in formal study. Many prepare for journalism, law, dramatics or science by participating in the varied activities offered at Gonzaga.

A Gonzaga man will develop as a leader in one of these fields realizing that he must double his talents and not bury them. Whatever his way of life may be, the true Christian will put into practice the ideas learned in school, not only in books but in the extra-curricular activities.

Activities

Council president Jack Fenlon adjusts the "mike" before taking a vote at an open meeting for the student body, in the school auditorium.

J. Carney purchases a ticket for the "Purple & White Valentine Dance" from T. Kulesher, at the Student Council ticket booth in the cafeteria.

Student Council

Twice yearly the members of the Student Council, for the following term, are chosen by a school-wide election, after the field has been narrowed through nominations by students. The elected council then chooses its own officers.

The purpose of the Council is two-fold: first, to act as a connecting link between faculty and students, and thus to promote understanding, co-operation and school spirit; and secondly, to give young men the opportunity to govern their own affairs and make their own decisions.

The duties of the council are many and varied. In the sports department, the Student Council encouraged attendance at games by offering cash awards to the classes showing ardent school spirit. They sponsored bus trips to the out of town games, and promoted the ad drive for a football program. Through the Booster Club, they aroused school spirit by pep-rallies and pre-game skits. At the end of the season, they awarded trophies to the football team's best back and lineman.

To encourage participation in extra-curricular activities, the Council awarded "G" pins to active students, and gold activity keys to outstanding participants in the extra-curriculars. They also picked the student-of-the month, for the school newspaper.

Other functions of the council are, suggesting school improvements, scheduling Purple and White dances, and decorating for various affairs in school.

Moderated by Mr. Ronald E. Redmond, S.J., the Student Council has worked hard and has accomplished much around the school.

Gonzaga's yearbook, the Aetonian, was published for the first time in 1942. It has served as a valuable record to preserve the memories of a year's achievement in the spiritual, cultural, educational, and athletic activities of the school.

The production of the 16th annual began early last May, with the selection of staff members. During the summer months the moderator, Mr. William Gavin, S.J., and the staff worked out rough drafts and planned the theme. With the fall term, the Kohlman Hall office of the yearbook was officially opened, and deadlines were set. Several times during the year, the editors and moderator drove to Baltimore for conferences with their publisher; here the staff learned of the technical devices used in year book publication and witnessed the actual printing of a book.

In the past ten years the Aetonian has gained many honors. The National Scholastic Press Association has ranked the Aetonian "All-American" three times, and has been given "First Class Honors" three times, and for the past two editions, the year book received "Columbia Scholastic Press Association's Medalist Award".

The staff hopes that it will be able to follow the excellent achievements of its predecessors in producing an interesting and prizewinning annual.

Editors W. DeRossett, B. Cabell and T. Kulesher analyze the magnetic and appealing sections of last year's book and plan similar features.

The Aquilian

The Aquilian is the school's newspaper. It is intended to knit student life more closely together and to "present and interpret news of the School, its students, and activities in accordance with the accepted standards and ethics of good journalism."

Mr. Duggan, S.J., the faculty moderator, and the student journalists consider their biggest achievement this year to be the "new look" of the Aquilian. By changing the production process and switching from glossy to unglossed paper, pictures have become brighter and print easier to read. With the letter-press system, used till this year, the paper was taken directly from the metal type. Pictures were taken from engravings. With the off set process the paper is reproduced from a metal plate chemically treated to hold both print and pictures.

Each issue holds some new interest plus the regular features, such as the "G-Man," "Following the Grads," "Observation Tower," "Take It From Me," and "The Student of the Month." For columns such as these and for outstanding news coverage, the Aquilian proudly displays the "All-American" seal of the National Scholastic Press Association.

Debaters Participate in League and Tournament Matches

Today, more than ever before, America needs men able to think on their feet.

In Jesuit education, public speaking and oratory have always been greatly encouraged for they give a student poise and the ability to express himself before others. To offer these benefits, the Phocion Debating Society, inaugurated in 1862, is open to Junior and Senior classmen.

The Phocians under the supervision of Mr. William P. Roberts, S.J., have participated on a full schedule. Besides competing in the Washington Catholic league, Gonzaga this year, participated in many contests along the eastern seaboard. Every year they journey to New York for the Fr. Gannon, S.J., Memorial Tournament at Fordham University. Then, they go to Philadelphia for the St. Joseph's College matches and to Baltimore's Loyola College tourney. Locally, they join in tournaments at Georgetown University and Georgetown Prep. In general they spend a busy season.

Sophomores and Freshmen are eligible for Gonzaga's Junior Debating Team, the Campions. Under the guidance of Mr. Eugene J. Barber, S.J., the society held weekly meetings to teach its members the fundamentals of argumentation. Intramural debates were held weekly to acquaint the members with the means of properly expressing their arguments in formal competition.

The Campions imitated the example of the successful upperclassmen and received awards for their performances in the Round Robin debates held at Gonzaga.

No doubt all the Junior Debators will be thankful for the fine experience gained from their participation in the various activities of the society. The members will find their earlier instruction a great aid in the stiffer competition of more mature debates in the Senior Society and an invaluable asset to their relationship with society upon graduation.

A man who has four years in debating has indeed put his time to good use. With the assistance of Mr. Roberts, S.J., and Mr. Barber, S.J., the societies have followed the course and aims of the school, namely to express oneself in the face of formal opposition. The ability to speak with self-confidence and poise is fostered in the debating societies to the highest degree and exemplifies the full development of the Christian man: the aim of a Jesuit education.

The Biology Club is one of the busiest activities on Eye Street. The purpose of the club is to supplement the classroom curriculum, by exploring the mysteries of nature more deeply. The club acquaints its members with present day biological research by field trips to places such as, the U. S. Government's Beltsville Experimental Center, Capitol Hill Botanical Gardens, Walter Reed Army Medical Center, the Smithsonian Institute, the American Red Cross Blood Bank, and many other locations in the Washington area.

At their meetings, the biologists deliver lectures, perform experiments, conduct question-and-answer sessions, and view slides or movies pertaining to the subject of the day.

The Club sponsored the annual Science Fair held in the Gonzaga Library and all its members exhibited a project. M. O'Donoghue, W. Semenuk and D. Carr, members of the club, won awards for their projects.

The Biology Club has done much to arouse student interest in the medical and biological research professions and its outstanding achievements have merited it recognition by the National Education Association and the Albertus Magnus Science Guild. The officers of the club are J. Gildea, president; D. Carr, vice-president; M. O'Donoghue, secretary; J. Green, treasurer. The club's faculty moderator is Mr. Raymond Lelii, S.J.

Sophomore J. Jenkins draws blood from his victim, while classmate W. Taylor silently waits to analyze the precious substance with their apparatus.

The Chemistry Club has the distinction of being Gonzaga's oldest extra-curricular activity. The club is under the direction of Mr. Reed.

The club's purpose is to offer to capable and interested students the opportunity to conduct their own experiments. Individual experiments are demonstrated before club members at the weekly meetings. The lab work is augmented with talks by professional chemists, and with trips to various chemical concerns in and around Washington.

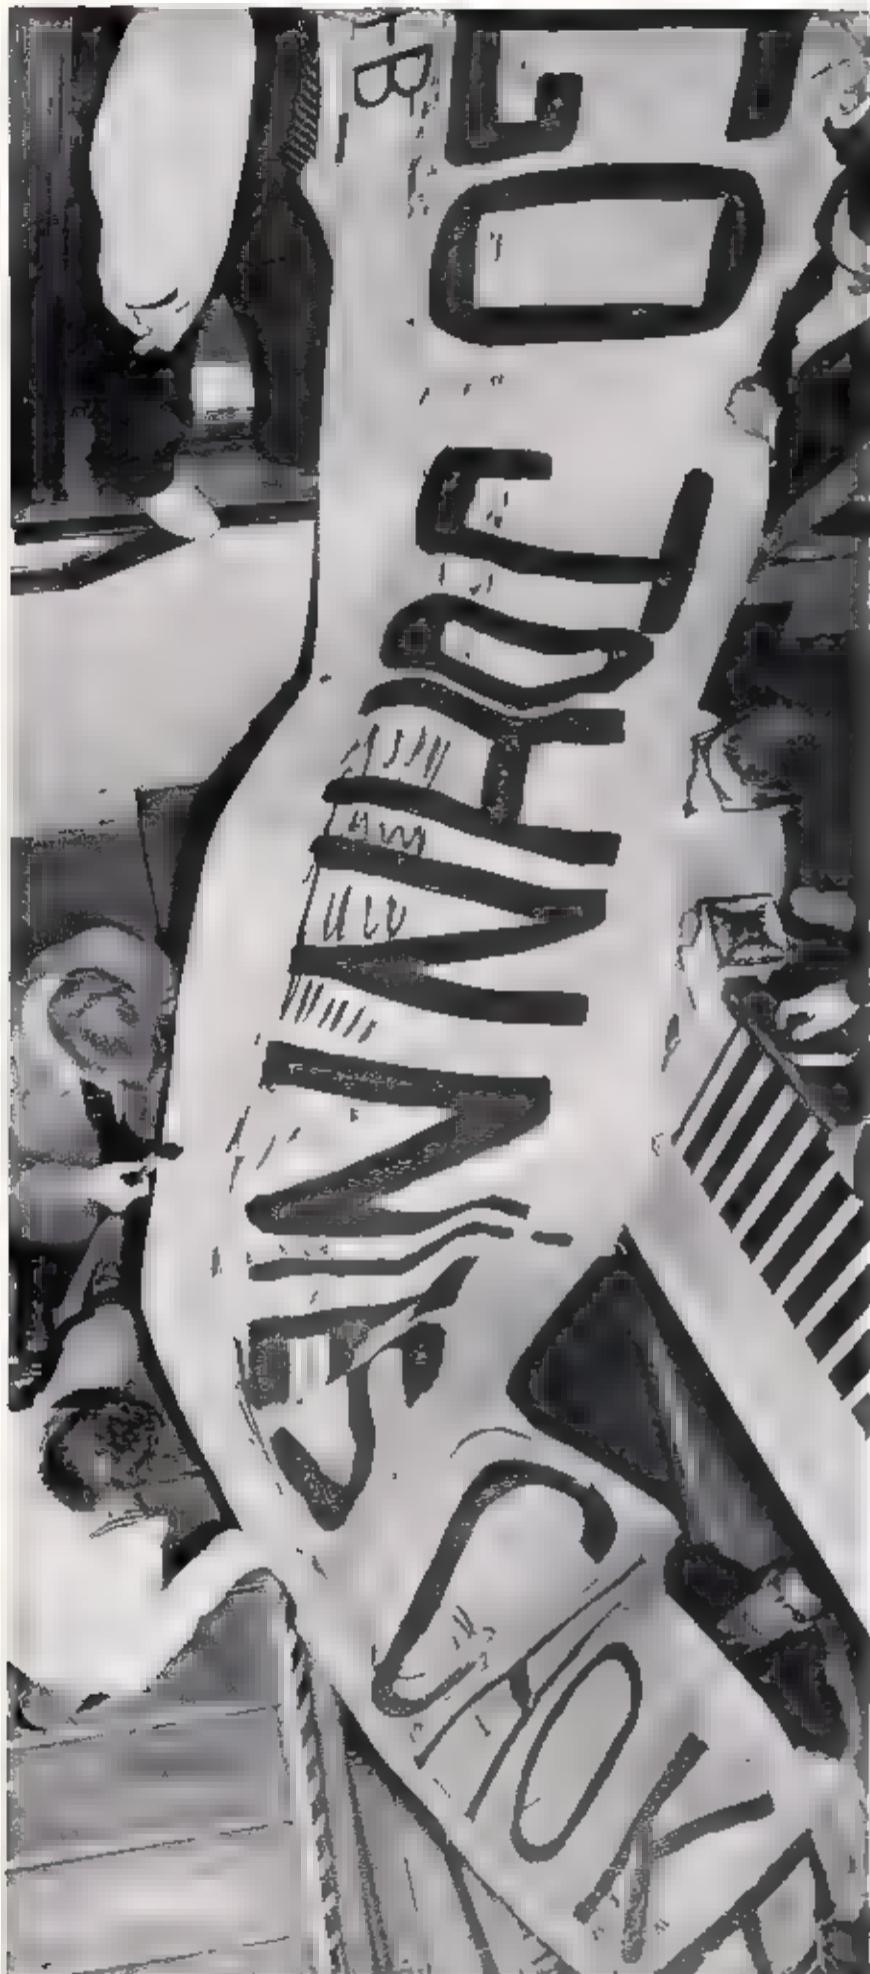

Members show a great deal of interest in this club, and perhaps it will prove to be a foundation for further achievements in the field of science.

Poster Club

The school's most active activity is the Poster Club. It meets three times a week, and is always busy making some kind of poster for all Gonzaga's thirty odd organizations. The pride and joy of the club this year, was the mammoth "Beat St. John's" banner (See Page 45) which was hung from atop the Washington Monument, and was pictured on the front pages of newspapers throughout the country. Membership in the Poster Club is open to any student in the school, regardless of his artistic ability. The poster makers must sacrifice much of their own free time, but they consider that the posters they make, and the appreciation of the student body are tangible rewards for their untiring efforts in the Poster Club workshop on the third floor of the main building.

This poster, three stories high, is but one example of the banners, posters and signs painted by the Poster Club this year

"Beat St. John's" is the perennial clamor at Gonzaga. This year, Gonzaga Seniors immortalized this cry by hanging a banner from the Washington Monument. G. Madden and D. Reed display an oil painting of the event.

Library Club

The Library Club has about twenty active members. They assist the librarian with desk duty, circulation records, filing and shelving. Their efforts enable the student body to have access to returned books much faster than if the job were handled by one person. The club members gain a valuable knowledge of library procedure and tools. The club is open to students in all classes.

To enrich their background, the club takes tours of the libraries of various government agencies, area colleges, and the Library of Congress. The club is directed by Fr. Harold Hocking, S.J., Mr. Hubert Hughes, S.J., and Miss Clara Council, school librarian. Miss Council is a specialist in bibliographical work and she has experience in almost every type of library work.

The Library has over 10,000 volumes, this probably makes it the largest high school collection in the city.

Mr. S. Lupica, the instructor of the Glee Club, goes over a song with C. Kallina and B. Cabell after a regular practice.

The Glee Club, organized this year is directed by Mr. Salvatore Lupica, an experienced professional choir and glee club director. The moderator is Mr. Thomas Duggan, S.J. All four years are represented on the club's roster. Practices are held twice weekly.

The Club made its public debut at the Annual Christmas Assembly. Other performances were scheduled for the Catholic University music Festival in April, and the Annual Spring Band Concert held at Gonzaga.

Early in January, a few students who were interested in public affairs, banded together into a club. Fr. Burke, S.J., Sophomore History teacher, consented to be the moderator and the new organization was christened the "Current Events Discussion Club." Meeting weekly, topics range from education to segregation, and frequent speakers enlighten the members with a different slant on the news. It is hoped that this newly founded club will enjoy continued success at Gonzaga.

The Mathematics Club aims to foster a greater understanding and appreciation of Mathematics and to give insight and help to the inquisitive mind, searching into the mysteries of Mathematics.

Club activities consist of preparing papers to be given at discussion meetings, the publishing of a magazine and field trips to local computing centers, such as, IBM and the Satellite tracking center.

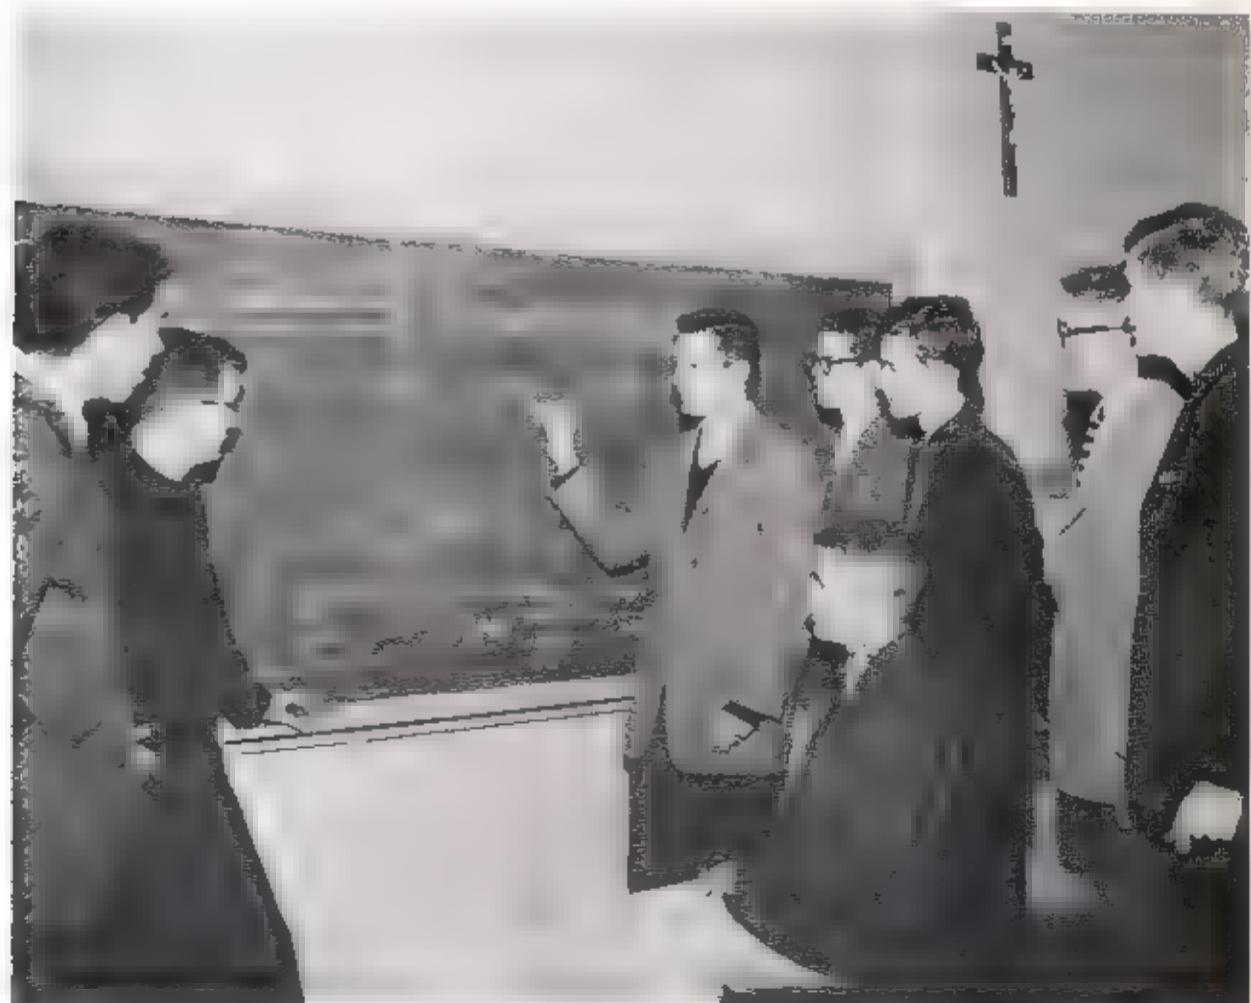

Membership is open to any upperclassman wishing to further this development in Mathematics beyond the high school scope.

Chesterton Club

Members of the Chesterton Club, W. Veeder, T. Lisi, T. Kulesher, M. Hurley, and C. Kallina gather together after school to discuss "Prometheus Bound," one of the plays they have studied this year.

The French Club, under the direction of Mr. Burch, S.J., and Mr. Cahill, S.J., translated two books, from French to English, and prepared the manuscripts for publication. Projects of the club included lectures by the members on the literature and history of France. Another activity of the club was the sponsoring of French movies for the student body in the school auditorium. One of the films shown was "Monsieur Vincent," the life of St. Vincent de Paul.

The German Club, in its first year, had about thirty members. The activities of the club generally supplemented classroom work. At weekly meetings, members viewed travelogues of Germany and Austria. As a project, club members are reading the book "Das Tagebuch Der Anne Frank." Under Mr. Redmond's guidance many other projects were planned. One of these projects was to visit embassies and chancellories of German speaking nations located here in Washington.

The Chesterton Club named in honor of the British author, Gilbert R. Chesterton, has the aim of approaching literature as a study and a history of man. Gonzaga's literary society is open to upperclassmen. At its weekly meetings, papers are read, discussion groups are formed, and reports are made on assigned projects. There is a possibility of the club's publishing a magazine, dealing with the arts. This year, the club is concentrating on Drama, its form and purpose.

T. Hickey, W. Veeder, M. McCloskey, and T. Lisi are four students who have submitted entries to several writing contests.

Parents' Clubs Sponsor Activities to Benefit School

The Mother's Club laid plans early in October for the many events of the 1957 1958 season. They sponsored a Halloween Card Party and Dance, at the Grand Ball room of the Willard Hotel. In December, the Mothers had a Christmas Party, and in January, a Day of Recollection. On the Sunday after Easter, each seniorclassman brought his mother to a Communion Breakfast. Then in May, the highpoint of the Club's activities, "FairDay" was held to raise Funds for needed school improvements.

The Father's Club started off the year by successfully promoting the Gonzaga St. John's football program. In November, the Father & Faculty night drew an even larger crowd than last year. On Passion Sunday, the annual Father Son Communion Breakfast was held at the National Press Club after the Mass at St. Aloysius Church. The Club brings aid to Gonzaga in religion, social, academic, and athletic events.

The officers of the Father's Club, M. Lisi (Sectr.), Fr. Bellwoar, S.J. (Moderator), Mr. Madden (Pres.), Mr. Grau (Treas.), Mr. Dance (Vice-Pres.)

Athletics develop spirit, determination and sportsmanship. These products of sports activities add up to one thing, Christian character. Education involves the whole man, body and soul, intellect and will. On the gridiron, court or cinder the principles of leadership and fairplay frequently determine the outcome of the contest. Saturday's hero receives the fame, but he in turn, aware of its origin, hands it over to You O Lord. A Gonzaga man completes his training on the field of friendly strife and sows the seeds of citizenship for the path of life ahead.

Inexperience Hinders Varsity Throughout Season

Fourth down on the Carroll 2-yard line. One yard for a first down; 2 yards for a touchdown. The team jumped out of the huddle. Quarterback Bill Counselman barked the signals. The ball was snapped. Fullback Alan Campbell, barreling up the middle, took the ball and plowed into the center of the line. Wham! He was met by a horde of Lions. When the pile-up was untangled, the ball lay just inches short of a first down.

If any one play in any one game could be called the turning point of the season, this was probably it. After this heartbreaking setback, Carroll took the ball and drove 98 yards for a touchdown, which eventually proved to be the winning margin. The Eagles fought back, but finally fell to the Lions by a 19-14 score. The following week the Purple succumbed to a powerful St. John's team by a 33-7 score.

Practice sessions began on Aug. 18, under the tutelage of Coaches Pete Lerrario and Pat Haley. Mr. Lerrario was beginning his first year as head coach, previously having been the backfield coach at St. John's. Mr. Haley, the Line Coach, came here from Villanova, where he played a rather bruising brand of football.

Due to the graduation of most of last year's lettermen, the team began the season under a very definite handicap. Only five veterans were returning, the remainder of the squad being composed of holdovers from the Junior Varsity. In only three week's time, it was necessary to mold this inexperienced group into a co-ordinated team. No one envied the coaches' job.

Unfortunately, the first game of the season was with Anacostia High. The Indians were a hard, veteran crew, and eventually they became the city Inter-high champions. From the first quarter, it was apparent that Anacostia had a little too much power and experience for our lads. All-Metropolitan end Dave Watkins found a second home in the Eagle secondary, snagging passes all day long. The Indians scored three times on sustained marches. Counselman passed the Purple into scoring position in the fourth Quarter and from the 2-yard line Campbell carried the ball over. On paper, Gonzaga had been trounced, but they gained both courage and experience from this encounter.

The Eagles showed great improvement in the following game with Wilson. The game was played almost entirely between the 30-yard lines, each team penetrating only once for a score. Crisp blocks, hard tackles, and booming punts, characterized this game. Gonzaga's tally came on a 15-yard end sweep by half-back Charlie Liekweg. Then Paul Frendach calmly applied his magic toe to the ball and kicked what proved to be the winning point.

In the Episcopal game, the Purple suddenly contracted an acute case of fumblitis. The Maroons twice recovered fumbles inside the Gonzaga 25-yard line and turned them into scores. Except for these two miscues, the game was an even match. The Eagles played a good game, but the breaks fell in favor of Episcopal.

The Purple next tangled with the Bladensburg Mustangs. Again it was a question of weight and experience which told the story. Bladensburg struck for a score in the first minute of play, and from then on the teams battled on even terms. Each exchanged T.D.'s in the last half, but the Mustangs' early score was still the margin of difference.

For the first time since 1937, the Eagles journeyed to Baltimore to play Loyola High, another Jesuit institution. Gonzaga seemed to find itself in this game. As the team played by far its finest game, Gonzaga scored early in the first quarter on a 40-yard drive, Jiggs Donahue plunging over from the 2-yard line. The Eagles struck again in the second quarter. On the most spectacular play of the season, Counselman passed 40 yards to Donahue, and he scampered the remaining 30 yards for the score. Paul Frendach unwittingly supplied the winning margin with his two extra point kicks, as the Dons stiffened for the remainder of the game and scored twice themselves.

The two following games were the high point of the season. Suitland and Fairmont Heights fell before the new-found Eagle power. The offensive line opened wide holes with devastating blocking, and the backs were shooting the gaps with perfect timing. The defensive line, outstanding all season, continued to immure the opposition with a rock-ribbed wall. Fullback Campbell had his best day against Suitland scoring three times. Counselman sneaked over for the fourth tally, his first score of the season. One hundred fifty pound middle guard Myron Lloyd was rather wonderful against the Rams, tackling runners all over the field. Campbell and Counselman again supplied the scoring punch in the Fairmont Height's game, Alan scoring twice and Bill once.

The two league games, the most important of the season, were next on the schedule. Carroll, the first opponent, had compiled a highly respectable record, and was considered the favorite before gametime. Carroll struck first with a 50-yard march on the ground. Mike Rice dove in for the score. The Purple responded in the second quarter with a 60-yard march of their own, work-horse Campbell travelling the last 13 yards. Frendach converted. No other score was registered until the hectic fourth quarter. The Lions scored on a 45-yard pass play from All-Metropolitan Halfback Maurice Walker to Tom Hoover. With the aid of 40 yards in penalties, Gonzaga soon marched back to a first down on the eleven. Three cracks at the line, and the ball had moved 9 yards. There was a feeling in the stands that this ensuing play would be a climax, a sum-up of the team's advancement during the past two months. Would they achieve the brilliance which they had flashed on occasion? Or were they a hard-luck team, destined for a mediocre season? The crucial play was run, and the answer was given.

Carroll then applied the crusher with their 98-yard drive. Soon after this score, Counselman and Howie Langley clicked on a 60-yard pass play, placing the ball on the fifteen yard line. Campbell caught the next pass for Gonzaga's final score.

The Purple's final game was with St. John's in the annual Catholic Classic. The less said about it the better. St. John's was good, very good. Coach Lerrario pulled out all the stops in an attempt to derail Joe Gallagher's express train, but the team could not cope with the Johnnie's air force. Campbell scored the Purple's only tally on a 15-yard dash off tackle.

The squad's final record stood at four wins, five losses. With a few breaks, however, they could have won the Episcopal, Bladensburg, and Carroll games. But luck was not with them. The lack of experienced players, who can make their own breaks, was too great an obstacle to overcome.

Al Campbell, the mainstay of the Eagle offense, cuts back off tackle after faking an end sweep against Carroll at Griffith Stadium.

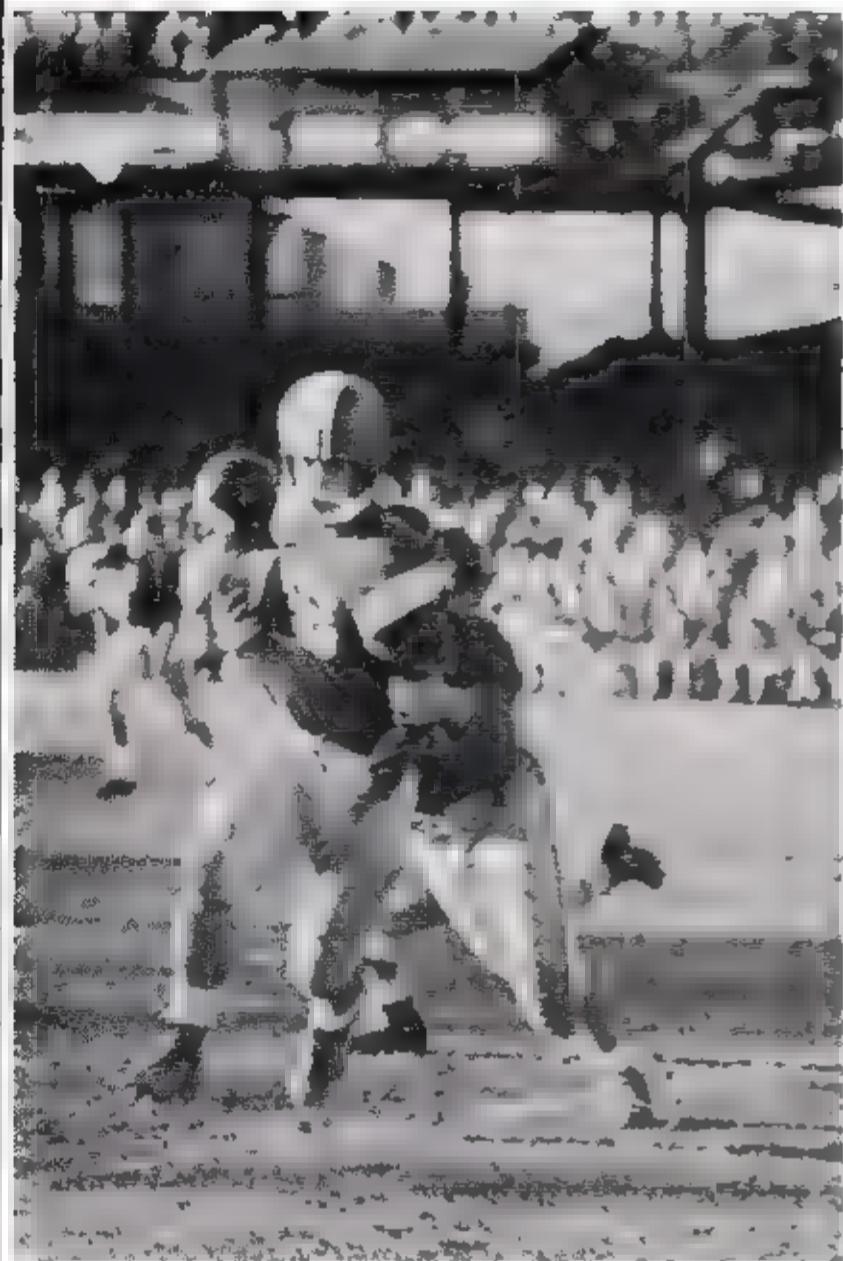

Showing the form, which won him All-Prep honors, Tom Edmonston drives into a Carroll back to stop what might have been a long gain.

Quarterback, Bill Counselman, showing he can run as well as pass, advances the ball on a quarterback sneak.

Al Campbell (middle foreground) gains ten yards before being stopped by St. John's tacklers. Vic Calder (No. 64) runs down-field towards the play.

Tackled from behind, this is one time Jim Combs of St. John's did not get away in the game at Griffith Stadium.

An unidentified Gonzaga player is stopped in the secondary. John Piazza, St. John's quarterback stops him, but not before he has gained 15 yards.

Sophomores, Freshmen Acquire Experience on J.V.

J.V. Coach

With a record of no wins and six defeats, it would seem that the Junior Varsity Football squad suffered a dismal season. This wasn't entirely true however, for in addition to personal benefits, the team members acquired needed experience, which will be of great value in the future.

More than anything else, it was a lack of experience which caused their rather poor season. Not one member of the team had played J. V. ball previously. As a result, the team started from scratch, and considering the circumstances, progressed considerably.

Coaching duties were divided between Mr. Joseph Madden and Mr. Richard Szlasa, two Maryland University students who did a fine job in their first year at Gonzaga. Practice began early in September, and the coaches kept their proteges extremely busy for the next three months.

Every season has some highlights which the team can look back upon. In individual performance, the running of Freshman Dick Calgaro stood out for the Junior Eagles. Perhaps the team's greatest thrill came in the St. John's game. Herb Baker slashed off tackle and galloped 55 yards for a score, the only T.D. of the season.

Tom Folliard lofts his deadly push shot for two points, as one of the helpless Cadets watches the proceedings.

The dividing line between mediocrity and success in basketball is a thin one. In the pro game, the difference between the last and first place clubs often is just two or three really good players. In college basketball, where the players are usually of equal caliber, the coaching staff plays a major role in determining a team's success. And in high school basketball, the key to victory is one big man, continual hustle and that undefinable thing called team spirit.

The story of this year's Eagle basketball team embraces these two levels of achievement, mediocrity and success. Rarely does a high school team bounce back from such a dismal beginning to such a resounding finish. Even more surprising than the Eagle's reversal is the fact that the turning point of the season can be pinpointed to one quarter of one game.

The one quarter was the fourth, the game was the second DeMatha contest. Before any further narration, however, it is necessary to give a résumé of the season's progress up to this point.

Gonzaga won its first game 74-41 over Calvert Hall. This was one of five victories over chronically weak Baltimore schools. The next game was against Blair, regarded by some at the end of the season to be the number one team in the city. The Eagles led for three quarters, but then seemed to die out as Blair surged ahead and won by five points, 51-46.

This was more or less the pattern for the next twelve games. The Purple won games they were supposed to win, and lost games they were supposed to lose. Victories during this period were numbered over B—C.C., Roosevelt, Mt. St. Joseph, Loyola, St. Anthony's, and Calvert Hall again. Losses were suffered at the hands of Anacostia, Roosevelt, DeMatha, St. John's, and Carroll twice.

The losses to Roosevelt and Anacostia can be written off as just bad games, but the DeMatha loss is inexplicable. Undoubtedly the worst game of the year, Gonzaga tried their best to hand the game to the Stags, and they finally did, as DeMatha won in overtime by one point. Against St. John's, the Eagles matched the Johnnies in ability but not in hustle and drive as the Johnnies won by five points. The two losses to Carroll, potentially one of the finest teams ever produced in the Washington area, need not be alibied. In both games, the Eagles played well, but not well enough to match the taller Lions.

With a 7-7 record at this point, the outlook was bleak. The Eagles possessed only one of the three ingredients of success—Dan Slattery, the big man. Tom Folliard had proved of considerable help, but the two other elements of victory, continual hustle and team spirit, were lacking.

The crucial point in the season was approaching. Having lost four Catholic League games, Gonzaga faced possible elimination from the playoffs. Three straight victories over Mackin, Geo. Prep and Episcopal set the stage for the "must" game against DeMatha.

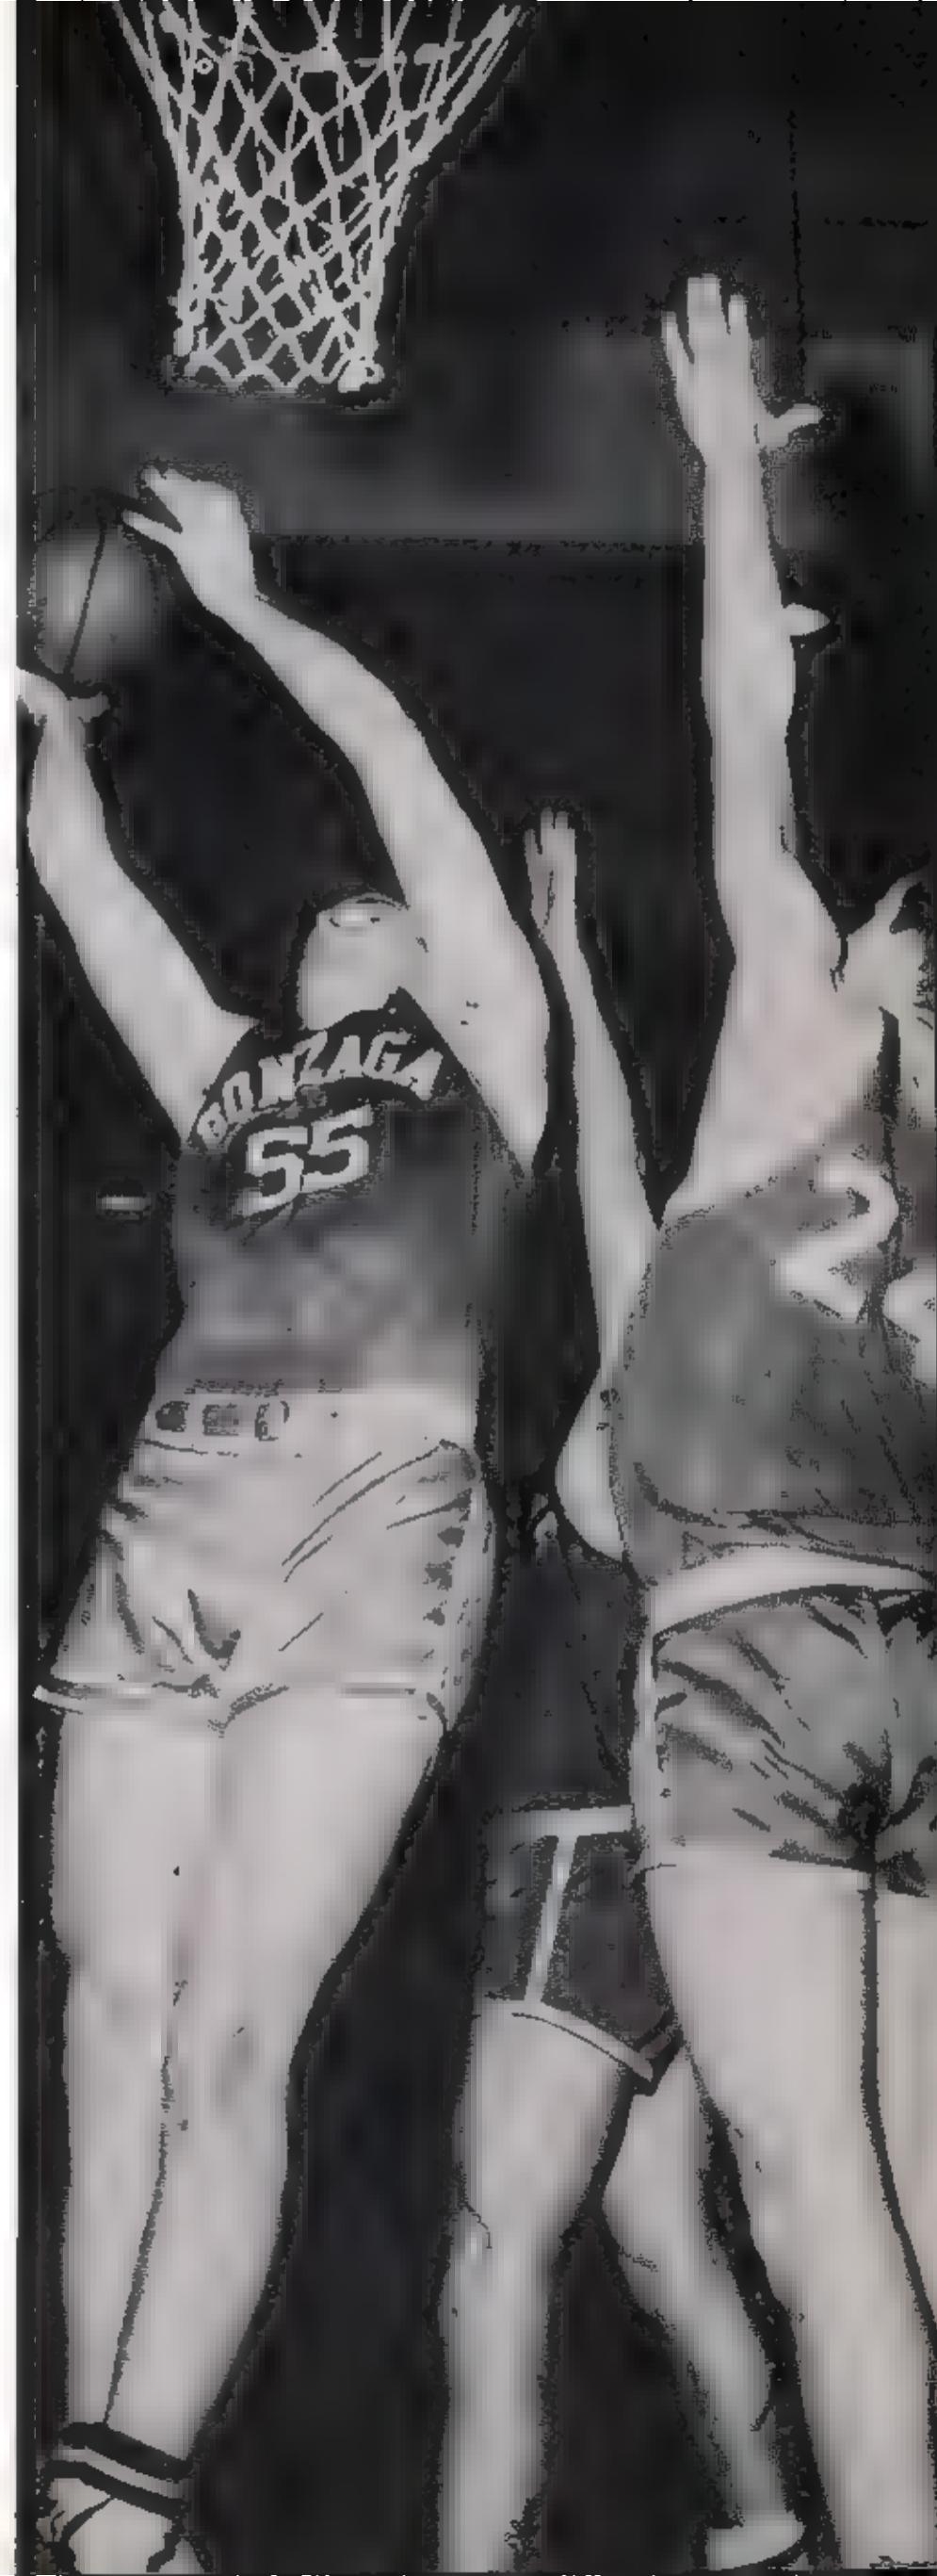

And now we approach the turning point. For three quarters, DeMatha, or rather Ernie Cage, was the master. Starting the fourth quarter the Stags enjoyed a 10-point lead and seemed on the way to knocking the Eagles out of the playoffs. Then it happened. Who can say how or why it happened, but all of a sudden the Eagles had scored 14 straight points and were in a lead which they never relinquished. The final score was 70-68, Gonzaga.

As stated before, it is rare indeed for a high school team to bounce back from such a dismal beginning to such a resounding finish. But from this game on, Gonzaga was a different ball club. Coach Whitcomb had finally found a winning combination, everyone was hustling, and that indefinable thing called team spirit pervaded the squad.

Gonzaga could not be stopped in their next four games, as Loyola, DeMatha, and St. John's twice fell to the Eagles.

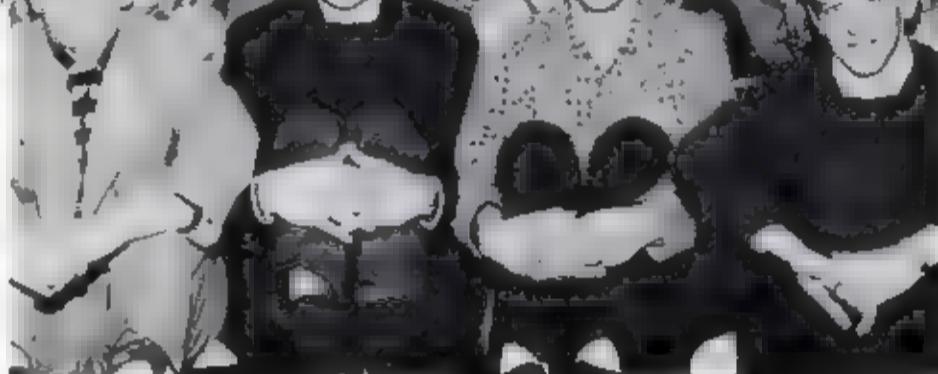

In the playoff victories over the Stags and Johnnies,

All-Catholic Star D. Slattery goes for two points against St. John's, despite the best efforts of two Cadets. Gonzaga took two out of three from the Johnnies to gain second place in the Catholic League.

Gonzaga was a different team from the one which lost to the same teams earlier in the year. Hustling constantly, they defeated DeMatha by 11 points and St. John's by 4 and 5, respectively.

Because of this fine showing, the Eagles were invited to two post-season tourneys, the City Championship Play-offs and Knights of Columbus Invitational Tournament, attended by some of the best teams on the East Coast.

In the City Playoffs, Gonzaga faced Cardozo in the first round and lost a close game to the Clerks by eight points. The contest was close all the way, and the Eagles suffered no shame in losing to this fine team. The following night Gonzaga played a good Armstrong team on even terms for most of the game before pulling ahead to a 10-point victory.

Before the K. of C. tourney began, several individual honors were awarded. Slattery, Folliard, Bill Kirvan and Howie Langely were picked on the All-Catholic League team which played Carroll in an exhibition game. Slattery and Folliard were subsequently named to numerous all-star teams.

The K. of C. tourney arrived, and into Washington stormed Archbishop Molloy, the New York City Champs, undefeated in 30 odd games. Gonzaga drew them for the first round.

Despite their excellent record in recent contests, nine victories in ten games, the Eagles were not conceded a chance of knocking off mighty Molloy. This appraisal was soon proved to be an underestimate. For four quarters the two teams played what possibly was the finest game in tournament history. All-American Willie Hall was a demon off the boards for Molloy but Gonzaga matched the Stanners point for point. The game went into overtime, and since one team had to win, the Stanners did. Either team could have won; many thought that the best team lost.

Gonzaga, now in the consolation bracket, racked up easy victories over Parkersburg, W. Va., and LaSalle of Cumberland to take home the fifth-place trophy. The Eagles, undoubtedly the best consolation winner in tournament history, also took individual honors as Slattery and Folliard were named to the all-tourney team.

The season ended with a record of 18 victories, 9 defeats. Before closing, mention should be made of Val Matelis, a fine senior player who was unable to participate this year because of a leg injury. Credit should be given to the "little four," Mike Word, Paul Frendach, Hank Buchanan, and Doug O'Donnell, who gave the team depth, speed, and flexibility. Howie Langely, the old pro, was a smooth operator when the going was rough. Bill Kirvan showed plenty of hustle and rebounding ability. Tom Folliard was one of the finest shots in the city and could always be counted on for a good game. Dan Slattery did a tremendous job off the backboards and must be given the greatest credit for the team's successful season. Last but not least, if anyone is to be applauded, Coach Whitcomb must be congratulated for a job well done.

J.V. Takes Third Straight Catholic League Crown.

Under the fine coaching of Mr. Harry Marmion, the Junior Varsity Basketball team completed a very successful year, compiling an 18-3 record and winning the Catholic League Championship.

The season started off in a most unconvincing manner, when the team could do not better than break even in the first six contests. From this point on, however, the Junior Eagles were unable to lose the winning habit. Fifteen teams fell during this span, and included among the victories were those against St. John's and Roosevelt, avenging earlier overtime defeats.

The last two triumphs of the season turned out to be the most important. In these contests Gonzaga downed St. John's and John Carroll by identical scores, clinching the Catholic League title.

The Freshman Basketball Team coached by Mr. Peter Lerario also had a successful season, even if it was not quite as impressive as the Junior Varsity's. The Frosh compiled a fine 17-6 overall record, but only a mediocre 6-5 Catholic League record.

Outstanding among the season's accomplishments was the squad's fine showing against older and more experienced teams in the Boy's Club Christmas tournament. In this tourney the Frosh won three games before losing by two points to Twin Oaks.

Eagles Hope to Recapture Catholic League Crown

Once again, Mr. Joe Kozik was at the helm as the Gonzaga baseball squad opened the season. Delayed by a snowy spring, the Eagle nine were hampered in their first few games by a lack of practice. Coach Kozik hoped that Easter workouts would remedy the situation. Unfortunately the publication date of the Aetolian prevents a further recording of the season's progress.

Gonzaga lost most of last year's veterans by graduation and the big question is whether the replacements can adequately fill their places. The team has four solid ballplayers returning from last year's squad. Big Vic Calder, American Legion star during the summer, holds down first base. Alan Campbell, reliable three year veteran, takes command at shortstop again. Speedy Sophomore Jim Holloran covers centerfield, and smooth-swinging Tom Edmonston plays leftfield.

In the pitching department Mr. Kozik has a capable group with which to work. Back from last year's team are Frank Bartos, Jack McGann, Mike Marchetti and Tom O'Malley. Edmonston figures to help with the pitching also. The coach has a freshman find in Bill Danneman, a promising fastballer.

Regardless of what their final record may be, this year's squad promises to be another hustling Gonzaga team.

Looking Toward College...

Look to Woodies' Varsity Shop...

Be it an Ivy League college . . . or the State University, every school has its own tradition. And . . . young men looking toward college have their own traditions, too . . . one of them, being well-dressed. For casual comfort with that varsity look, our Ivy styled young clothes will be a hit on any campus. And there are togs for summer fun, too, in the Varsity Shop, 4th floor . . .

There Is No Substitute for Experience

It cannot be dispensed with . . . or substituted for . . . It should be of first consideration in every important undertaking. . . . We mean experience . . . the specialized experience such as we offer in the field of School Annual photography. . . . That is why year after year, we have been honored by being chosen Official Yearbook Photographer by many leading Schools and Colleges. . . . Getting out a Yearbook is a once-in-a-lifetime undertaking. . . . It is therefore good to know that there is available to you all the experience that is necessary to meet this unusual emergency. . . . You'll find our organization skilled and resourceful . . . our facilities and resources ample to meet every problem connected with Yearbook Photography. Negatives of portraits appearing in this book are kept on file should you wish to re-order.
